Disorders in Italy Assume Character of Genuine Revolution

Fighting Continues on the Outskirts of Turin—Bomb Hurled in San Carlo Square—Street Cars Carry Revolutionary Placards.

Rome, Sept. 23.—Disorders continue at Turin, and rifle firing is sometimes assuming the character of a battle in the outskirts of the city, according to dispatches reaching Rome. Three more persons have been killed, it is said, among them being Mario Santini, President of the Young Men's Nationalist Association. A bomb was thrown in San Carlo Square, near the central police office, but no one was killed or injured.

Authorities have made 200 arrests.

Italian workers appear to be divided in their reception of their agreement which was intended to solve the problem arising from the occupation of industrial plants throughout the country.

Extremists Active

Turin has been the scene of serious disorders, mobs attacking without provocation, it is said, Royal guards stationed in that city. It appears the agitation has been carried on by extremists, who do not have the support of the population. Dispatches received here say street cars carrying placards with such inscriptions as "Viva Lenine," "Death to the King" and "Death to the Royal Guards," were surrounded by indignant townspeople.

So far as known seven deaths have resulted from the riots there, but the military now controls the situation.

Newspaper Seized.

Printers employed by the newspaper Nazione, of Turin, have occupied the plant and have announced they will manage the newspaper themselves. A fund of 3,000,000 lire is said to have been deposited in a bank to the credit of the men, and there are hints that this money originally came from Soviet Russia.

Most Original.

Genoa, Sept. 24.—The most original of the numerous seizures of plants by workmen occurred Wednesday when the printers of the important conservative newspaper Nazione, occupied the premises and declared they would manage the newspaper themselves.

FARMERS' PRESIDENT GREATLY AMUSED

Statement of Premier Not Taken Seriously By H. W. Wood

Calgary, Sept. 24.—President H. W. Wood, of the U. F. A., displayed considerable amusement when his attention was drawn to the speech in which Premier Meighen charged the organized farmers and their leaders with having "aligned themselves with seditionists." He was disinclined to take this charge seriously.

"I think you newspapermen are taking this talk of Mr. Meighen's altogether too seriously," he remarked. "He is not half so bad as some of his talk would suggest. He has been thrust somewhat prematurely into a position that would tax the seasoned strength of one who has mature judgment and the settling influence of long experience. I am only afraid that the very zeal he is throwing into work that is too heavy for his age and experience will ruin him for many years which otherwise might be filled with usefulness."

TRIBUNAL GRANTS AUSTRALIAN MINERS INCREASE IN WAGES

London, Sept. 24.—(Canadian Associated Press).—The coal tribunal in Australia has awarded the miners there an increase of three shillings a day in wages, bringing them up to sixteen and six pence a day.

JOHNSON IS SAFE.

Mexico City, Sept. 24.—Bertie C. Johnson, British subject recently freed from Zamora's outlaws, has telegraphed the British consulate at Guadalajara that he is proceeding to that city.

PLAN TO FINANCE VIMY MEMORIAL

Appeal For Funds Will Be Made Throughout Canada November 14

Montreal, Sept. 24. — Professor Charles Bieler, who has returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast in connection with the erection of the Canadian Vimy Memorial Church at Lens, France, reported to the executive committee that representative ministers, church officials as well as leading citizens and the public as a whole in the cities visited by him endorse the project.

It was decided at the meeting of the executive committee that Sunday, November 14, should be set apart as the Vimy Memorial Church Sunday, on which day collections in aid of the project will be made throughout Canada, while it was also decided that an energetic campaign for funds by subscriptions should be carried on within the next six weeks.

Corresponding members of the executive committee include: Winnipeg, Rev. Leslie Pidgeon; Regina, Rev. Canon Davidson; Calgary, Rev. C. E. Beland; Vancouver, Rev. A. E. Cooke; Victoria, Rev. W. Stevenson.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PAPER STARTS NEW TERM WELL

The Public School Magazine, that splendid little publication issued by the public school pupils of the city, has started the Fall term with one of the most interesting issues which has appeared yet. One of the features of the issue is a fine article on Garibaldi Park by Miss M. I. Gladstone, who describes the visit of the B. C. Mountaineering Club to that famous recreation ground. The issue also is featured by the first instalment of an article on "Music: Its Logical History and Growth," by George J. Dyke, who will contribute to the magazine further. The issue contains, too, a very instructive article about th eAmerican bison whose habits are authoritatively described.

MANY JEWS KILLED IN GALICIAN POGROM; REFUGEES AT KIEV

London, Sept. 24.—More than 200 Jews were killed in the Galician pogrom instituted by the Ukranians, according to the latest reports received in Kovno, says a dispatch from that city.

The Kiev correspondent of the Daily Herald describing the recent pogrom declares that 10,000 new refugees have reached Kiev, and predicts that if nothing is done to relieve them they will be worse off than the refugees of last Winter.

Threat Behind Armistice Scheme by Joffe at Riga

Riga, Sept. 24.—(Associated Press.)—Adolph Joffe, head of the Soviet peace delegation at to-day's session of the Russo-Polish Peace Conference, proposed an armistice, which, he said, must be accepted by the Poles within ten days, or the Russian Winter campaign would be inaugurated, which Joffe declared the Soviet Government desired to avoid.

Credentials held by Polish delegates to the Peace Conference here show they have full powers to negotiate and sign an armistice agreement and preliminaries to a peace convention, but do not mention the fact that power has been given them to sign a final Peace Treaty. In his message to Moscow, Prince Sapieha, Polish Minister of Foreign Affairs, stated specifically that the Polish delegates would be given full powers to sign a final treaty. This message and the credentials of the Polish representatives are on file at Bolshevik headquarters here.

It was announced the next Conference would assemble at noon Friday.

PEAK OF HIGH PRICES PASSED

Reductions in Various Commodities Symptomatic of General Shaking Down

Tendency Towards Lower Prices Brought About By Decreased Demand

New York, Sept. 24.—(Canadian Press.)—Proof that the peak of high prices has been passed and that the direction of the curve is now downward is seen to-day by the New York newspapers in yesterday's announcements of price-reductions from large firms in various parts of the United States. These reductions, covering a wide variety of commodities, are taken as symptomatic of a general "shaking down" movement that will eventually bring living costs back to a stable basis.

Some of the local papers, notably The Times and The Tribune, have secured expressions of opinion from business men in many cities supporting the view that the readjustment of prices is under way on a definite and permanent programme.

Another Motor Cut.

Following the original announcement by Henry Ford of a price-revision on his cars almost to a pre-war basis, the manufacturers of the Franklin car announced cuts of from 17 to 21 per cent. Two of the largest mail order houses in the United States, Sears, Roebuck & Company, and Montgomery Ward & Company, both of Chicago, announced substantial reductions in many lines of merchandise. It is reported that several New England mills intend to follow the example of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company in reducing prices of cotton goods. The Times says:

"Dispatches from the larger cities showed that substantial retail price-reductions had taken place or were expected, tendency toward lower prices having been in effect in some cities for several months because of an increasing tendency on the part of the public not to buy anything but necessities.

Basic Reason.

"The general view of business men was that this was the basic reason for the recent wholesale price-reduction, and that the old law of supply and demand was operating to produce lower prices by a decrease in the demand for nearly every kind of manufactured goods. In this particular situation the decreased demand seems to have been caused by the refusal of the retailers to buy from the wholesalers or manufacturers, which was due in turn to the slowness with which the public bought from the retailers.

"The result has been that large unsold stocks of goods remain with the manufacturers, necessitating either the stoppage of the factories or sale at a lower price."

In sympathy with the weakness of wheat, other grain markets also gave way and both corn and oats fell to the lowest price levels for the 1920 crop.

Hotels to Explain.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Managers of five leading hotels and of two restaurant chains have been summoned to appear to-day before the City Councils committee on living costs. An announcement by Chairman Max Adamowski said that they would be asked to explain "why their prices have not been reduced in proportion to the drop in wholesale food prices."

METAL CASES TO CONSERVE WOOD FOR NEWSPRINT OUTPUT

New York, Sept. 24.—Substitution of metal for wood now used in the making of shipping cases would increase the annual output of newsprint four million tons. Everett W. Morgan of the Pneumatic Scales Corporation declared last night in an address before the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

"Six million cords of wood were turned into Shipping cases last year," he said, "which could have been used to produce paper."

SENATOR BORAH DENOUNCES LEAGUE

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 24.—The League of Nations was denounced by Senator William E. Borah, Idaho, in an address at a Republican rally here last night. "England annexed two million square miles of territory as a result of war," he said. "It would be the duty of the United States, if we entered the League, to help police that territory and if necessary to send soldiers to fight to protect it for England," he added.

DAILY BULLETIN.

London, Sept. 24.—Terence Macswiney, lord mayor of Cork, was in a very exhausted condition this morning at Brixton Prison, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League. He spent a very bad night, the bulletin declared, and the severe pains in his head, of which he has complained frequently began again this morning.

ALLEGED MAIL FRAUDS.

New York, Sept. 24.—Three New York brokerage houses were included in a supplementary indictment unsealed by Federal court order to-day which alleged mail frauds exceeding $20,000,000 in connection with the sale of Tuxpam Star Oil Corporation stock. Members of three firms—O'Brien & Company; Low Brothers and Samuel S. Campbell & Company, have been summoned to appear for pleading before Federal Judge William B. Sheppard.

EXTRADITION ORDER

London, Sept. 24.—Solicitors representing Mrs. John Spreckels, Jr., of California, have instructed the police to inaugurate extradition proceedings for William Barrett, an American who is reported to be under surveillance of the police of Los Angeles. A warrant charging Barrett with the theft of a pearl necklace valued at $16,500, was issued on the application of Mrs. Spreckels in the Marlborough police court, September 17.

Georges Leygues Asked by Millerand to Form New French Ministry

Paris, Sept. 24.—Georges Leygues, Minister of Marine in the Clemenceau Cabinet, has accepted a call to the first Premiership under President Millerand's administration, it was announced this afternoon. He will likewise act as Foreign Minister.

President Millerand this morning offered the Premiership to M. Leygues and asked him to form a Ministry. M. Leygues requested a few hours to consult his political friends and promised to give a reply later in the day.

Praise For Millerand

Paris, Sept. 24.—Praise of Alexandre Millerand, the new President of the French Republic, is the keynote of editorials upon his inauguration printed here to-day. The only discordant note comes from Socialist organs and some radical journals.

"Our friends and enemies," writes Charles Chaumet, former Minister of Marine, in Avenir, "will learn by the election of Millerand that France is still 'the lady of Verdun' and that she no longer will allow sabotage of her victory."

This seems to sum up public feeling generally as expressed by the newspapers.

GERMAN'S TANGLED FINANCIAL SKEIN

Total Debt Estimated By Finance Minister at 242,700,000,000 Marks

Berlin, Sept. 24.—Under a threat of resigning his post and thereby precipitating a crisis, Herr Wirth, Minister of Finance, yesterday not only succeeded in forcing the Cabinet to tackle the problem of the nation's tangled finances, but also obtained for himself an ascendant influence in governmental affairs.

At an extraordinary session of the Cabinet, Herr Wirth presented an unvarnished analysis of Germany's financial condition, hurling billions of marks of deficits at his colleagues and charging that "wretched finances are but an expression of maladministration."

As a result of his frank exposition of finances, the Cabinet unanimously voted to take up immediately the problem of the confiscation of coal fields and ordered the Minister of Economy to prepare the draft of a law based on the report recently compiled by the National Commission for Socialization.

Germany's total debt, including the funded debt of ninety-one billion marks, amounted to 242,700,000,000, Herr Wirth declared. The deficit in the current budget, according to Herr Wirth, will reach a total of 55,700,000,000 marks. Germany is facing claims for indemnities to subjects growing out of the war and the peace treaty totalling 131,000,000,000 marks. The operation of the State railways has been responsible for a deficit of sixteen billion marks, while the operation of post and telegraph were two billion marks short of their anticipated returns. The national debt has been increased by 47,500,000 marks during the current year, said the Minister.

FAR FLUNG LINE OF BRITISH COMMERCE

Strikingly Illustrated at Closing Session of Chambers of Commerce

Toronto, Sept. 24.—A striking instance of the far-flung line of commerce of the British Empire was given at the close of the ninth Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire here yesterday when the thanks of that body were being presented to Lord Desborough, president of the Congress.

The resolution of thanks was moved by Hugh Blain, of Toronto, and was spoken to by the following: Sir Thomas Mackenzie, of New Zealand; Sir Alexander Roberts, of Bengal, India; I. Wallbach, of Pretoria, South Africa; T. Geddes Grant, of Trinidad, British West Indies, and Stanley Machin, of London, England; J. A. Aiton, of Derby, England, one of the speakers yesterday, said the great patriotism of Canadians was a revelation to those of the delegates whose first visit it was to this Dominion.

A fixed date for the celebration of Easter throughout the British Empire was advocated in a resolution which carried in the Congress of the Imperial Chambers of Commerce at yesterday's session here.

Not Coming West

The tour of the delegates to the Congress of Imperial Chambers of Commerce originally intended to extend to the Pacific Coast has been confined to Ontario and Quebec, owing to the inability of the majority of the delegates to remain in Canada longer than the middle of October. The Congress having finished in Toronto last evening, the party leaves to-day for Niagara Falls.

Thousands Flocked to Willows Park Yesterday for Agricultural Fair

Weather conditions were no deterrent to the attendance at the Fall Fair at the Willows yesterday, the fact that the exhibits are well housed and the grandstand well sheltered apparently being of more importance in the minds of the thousands who again filed through the gates.

Shortly after one o'clock a steady stream of automobiles began to arrive, keeping the parking officials busy, while the street cars were so well filled that frequently would-be passengers along the route had to wait some minutes before a car was able to pick them up.

Many of the visitors were arriving early in order that they might pass an hour or more in viewing the exhibits before going to the grandstand for the races, and while it was apparent from the thinning of the crowds in the buildings that the races were the main attraction of the day, yet there was never a moment when any of the great halls had not interested knots of spectators examining exhibits.

With the happy holding-off of the looked for showers, the various stands and attractions of the midway had far better success in attracting the crowds than had been attending their efforts on previous days.

Livestock Parade Cancelled

The livestock parade, which was set for yesterday afternoon before the commencement of the races, was reluctantly abandoned at the last moment on account of the condition of the track. It was hoped that it might be possible to hold the display to-day or to-morrow, but it was officially stated this morning that there is little chance of the track drying sufficiently to permit of the event being held, and it has been finally abandoned.

The directorate are looking for a handsome turnout for this afternoon, the promise of settled weather being looked to to bring out an attendance by all those citizens who have hitherto been deterred by the threatened showers.

FRASER RIVER SALMON BENEFIT

More Fish Reach Spawning Grounds Than in Last Quinquennial Period

Deputy Commissioner of Fisheries Reports on Recent Inspection

"More sockeye salmon passed through the Hell's Gate in the Fraser River Canyon above Yale this year and reached the spawning grounds of the upper lake section of the Fraser basin than in any one of the last five lean years," says John P. Babcock, Deputy Commissioner, in a preliminary report made to the Hon. Wm. Sloan, Provincial Commissioner of Fisheries. Mr. Babcock returned to Victoria, Tuesday from a three weeks' inspection of the upper spawning grounds of the Fraser.

He visited all the great lakes section and reports that "although this is an off year," the number of sockeye that reached Shuswap and Chilco Lakes was greater than in any recent lean year, and compared quite favorably with the number that passed up the Thompson and Chilcotin rivers in the last big year, 1917, and the number of sockeye that reached the Birkenhead is far greater than it has been in any one of the last ten years.

He quotes Fishery Overseer Scott, who throughout the season was detailed to observe conditions in the Fraser River canyon, as reporting that "the number of sockeye that passed through Hell's Gate was as great as in the last big year—1917."

Sockeye in Canyon.

Sockeye in large numbers were in evidence in the canyon at Hell's Gate and Bridge River all through July and August and the first ten days in September. The water in the Fraser and its tributaries this year was very much higher than ordinarily. In July it was from ten to fifteen feet higher than usual. At no time this year did it reach the ordinary low stage. At no time were the fish held up at Hell's Gate or Bridge River. All the salmon that reached those rapids this year passed through with little or no delay.

For the first time in recent off years there was a run of sockeye up the Thompson River. They were in evidence for two weeks in August. Notwithstanding that Dominion Indian and Fishery authorities prohibited the Indians from catching salmon above commercial fishing limits at Mission Bridge, the Indians could not resist the temptation to do so. No trouble was experienced with them at Hell's Gate, where in former years they took many thousands of both spring and sockeye salmon. No attempts were made to fish there this year. On the Thompson River and in the canyon of the Fraser above the mouth of Bridge River Indians attempted to ignore the regulations and catch sockeye. After several arrests had been made the Indians quit. One Indian arrested on the Thompson in August had one hundred sockeye in possession and another forty. The Indians at the Bridge River canyon are reported to have taken several thousands in July and August, notwithstanding that the water was so high at that point as to make fishing by their methods difficult.

Quesnel and Chilcotin.

Comparatively few fish entered Quesnel Lake this year. None were observed there hntil late in August. At last accounts sockeye were still reaching the lake in small numbers.

In the Chilcotin River section Mr. Babcock was told by Indians that sockeye in considerable numbers ran in the river for over two weeks in August and that they believed the run was far greater than in any recent year. No open fishing was done by the Indians but a good many sockeye were taken at night. The Indians at the head of the Chilco River report that an unusually large number of sockeye had entered Chilco Lake this season.

Action Postponed by Miners Pending Another Conference

Strike Notices Suspended One Week at Suggestion of Premier Lloyd George to Meet Owners—New Proposals to Be Considered.

London, Sept. 24.—The coal miners of Great Britain will not go on strike next Monday as threatened, it developed to-day. As a result of a meeting between Premier Lloyd George and the Miners' Executive body, the coal strike notices previously handed in have been suspended for one week.

As a result of a further conference with Premier Lloyd George concerning the threatened coal strike, the miners' executive body decided to-day to recommend to the delegates of the miners, who are meeting this afternoon, that the strike notices, which are effective Saturday, be suspended one week to enable the miners to meet the owners, as suggested by the Premier.

Premier's Proposal

The Premier's proposal was that a basic line be fixed for coal output at a sufficiently low level to ensure a wage increase, if any reasonable rate of production is maintained.

The recommendation of the executive body was followed by the miners' delegates at their meeting later in the afternoon, and it was decided to suspend the strike for one week, as requested by the Premier.

RUSSIAN MINISTER TO LEAVE PEKING

Chinese Government Terminates Official Relations With Legation

Peking, Sept. 24.—Termination of official relations with the Russian legation announced by the Foreign Office here to-day followed an exchange of communications between the Legation and the Foreign Office after the latter had suspended the former's privilege of sending cipher messages. Prince Koudacheff, the Russian Minister, was willing to leave Peking only upon a formal request from the Government, holding that he could not take the initiative in leaving in view of the continued recognition of the Legation by the Foreign Office.

The Chinese Government desire the Minister to leave of his own volition in view of a peculiar situation here, the Legation having no authority over Russian consuls and not being considered to hold the position of a real Legation.

LUMBERMEN REQUEST RETENTION OF DUTY

Tariff Commission Resumed Sittings at Vancouver To-day

Vancouver, Sept. 24. — (Canadian Press) — Lumber manufacturers of British Columbia this morning presented their case for a retention of the present customs duty which affords protection on thirty per cent. of the manufactured product of the mills of the Province.

James D. McCormack, vice-president of the B.C. Manufacturers' Association, spokesman for the lumbermen, told the Commissioners that the annual payroll of the lumber industry in the Province amounted to over $29,000,000, and that 26,000 men were employed; urged that the present protection afforded by the tariff be maintained; expressed the opinion that protection should be extended to cover grades of lumber not now protected; and then reviewed the competition of United States mills, met with by British Columbia manufacturers. Mr. McCormack, in answer to the chairman, declared that Western farmers were under a misapprehension when they thought they could not get lumber from B.C. There is no scarcity of demand in home markets. Mr. McCormack affirmed that there was plenty of lumber in the hands of retail lumbermen in the Western Provinces, and intimated that B.C. manufacturers are not shipping lumber to the United States in preference to the middle west market.

Timber in Canada.

"Standing timber in Canada," said Mr. McCormack "is estimated at 900,000,000,000 feet, of which it is estimated 366,000,000,000 feet or approximately 40 per cent., is located in British Columbia."

"The sawmill cut of last year for the Dominion was 4,483,000,000 feet, of which British Columbia produced 1,615,000,00 feet, or 36 per cent."

Mr. McCormack said that 70 per cent. of the product of B.C. mills entering into ordinary construction is not afforded any protection at present by the Canadian customs tariff, and, he declared, that full advantage has been taken of this situation, stating that there had been large imports into the four Western Provinces from the mills of the United States of non-dutiable lumber. These importations, said Mr. McCormack, amounted to 114,000,000 feet in 1910; in 1911 importations were 263,000,000 feet and in 1912, 300,000,000 feet. These figures, Mr. McCormack said, are a clear indication of what will undoubtedly occur again should the result that the Canadian market would be restricted and B.C. industries thereby suffering in proportion. Brussels, Sept. 24.—One hundred delegates and twice as many advisers and secretaries have arrived here from forty States for the International Financial Congress organized by the League of Nations, which will begin its sessions to-day. All the Allied and associated countries, and all the former enemy States, except Turkey, are represented.

The financial experts will take up immediately the question of the financial problems of the world generally and of individual States particularly and the proposed remedies. Reparations and inter-Allied war debts will not be discussed.

This is the first time that such an imposing array of financial men from all over the world has met to consider such vast problems and the first time since the war began that the Allies, their adversaries and neutrals are sitting on equal terms.

Although the Conference has only advisory powers not binding upon the participants, the delegates hope that their recommendations may result in re-establishing the financial balance of the world.

PEACOCK SAYS TANLAC PUT HIM BACK ON JOB

Had Rheumatism And Dyspepsia So Bad He Had To Be Helped About the House When He Began Taking Master Medicine

"One year ago my health broke down, and I had to give up my job, but Tanlac set me right, and from then until now I haven't missed a single day from work," said Albert Peacock, Suite 2, 736 Ninth Avenue East, Vancouver, recently. Continuing Mr. Peacock said:

"I was in an awful fix, and had been for a long time before I got hold of Tanlac. My stomach just seemed to stay out of order all the time, and I couldn't find a thing to eat hardly that agreed with me; in fact, I had about reached the point where I was afraid to touch a bite. Gas would form so bad that it nearly killed me to take a deep breath, and the pains and cramps in my stomach were just about all I could stand.

"I was bothered awfully with a stubborn caes of constipation, and I don't believe a day ever passed that I was free from a bursting headache. Any little thing would get on my nerves, and at times I would jump like I had been shot at.

"But all this didn't cause me half as much suffering as the rheumatic pains in my feet, legs, back and shoulders. In fact they were all over my body. I had to give up my job with the Shelly Bakery Company, and even before I quit they had to hire another man to help me out, as I was trying to stick it out, although I could hardly get around.

"Finally I became almost helpless, and had to have somebody even help me get about the house. I was in pain all the time, night and day, no matter whether I was sitting down, lying down or standing up, and after going to bed I had to lie in one position all night long for it nearly killed me to move. I simply ached all over, and was the most discouraged man you ever saw.

"That was just the fix I was in when I started on Tanlac, and if ever anything was a godsend to anybody, that medicine was a godsend to me. I used two bottles of Tanlac and two of the rheumatic treatment, and its a fact, all my troubles were gone. My appetite returned, and I could eat anything I wanted without a sign of trouble. My nerves quieted down, and every ache and pain I ever had left me.

"Ever since then I have been in as good health as I could want, not troubled in any way whatever. I weigh a good deal more than I did and feel as strong and active as ever. If anybody doubts it just let them come to me, and I will take time to tell them personally what Tanlac has done for me and what I think of it."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas, and Lang's Drug Store Esquimalt Road.

MEDICAL AID COSTS MORE IN ALBERTA

Dr. W. S. Galbraith Is Elected President of Medical Association

Edmonton, Sept. 24.—The new president of the Alberta Medical Association will be Dr. W. S. Galbraith, Lethbridge. Dr. F. H. Mewburn, Calgary, was chosen honorary president for the ensuing year.

Other men elected yesterday were Dr. W. B. Wells, Edmonton, first vice-president; Dr. J. E. Palmer, Calgary, secretary, and Dr. F. S. MacPherson, Edmonton, unanimously chosen as treasurer.

Next year's meeting will be held at Calgary.

New scales of physicians' fees that will have Provincial application were approved. Day calls will now be $3 instead of $2; night calls $5 instead $4, and maternity cases $35 in place of $25. The increased scale has been in effect in some of the Alberta cities, but it has not been recognized in many of the rural districts. The action of the convention now makes the increased scale a provincial one.

The medical men recommend that dope fiends be kept in jail until necessary medical assistance had given satisfactory relief.

GENERAL MACCREADY EXPLAINS REPRISALS

Military Commander In Ireland Makes His Position Very Clear

Dublin, Sept. 24.—General Sir Neville MacCready, commander of the military forces in Ireland, in an interview yesterday, denied that the reprisals for the assassination of police taken at Balbriggan by the "Black and Tans," and elsewhere by the regular police or military, were actuated by any set policy formulated by the Government. He declared that if the guerilla warfare of the Irish Republican army continued, the situation becomes such that reprisals would be necessary.

He made clear the position of the military forces in Ireland, saying that they had nothing to do with the administration of the Royal Irish Constabulary and its British auxiliary, the "Black and Tans," other than to give them necessary support in carrying out the police duties.

"When I came to Ireland," General MacCready said, "the idea got abroad that I came in the capacity of a kind of 'pooh-bah' with supervision over the police as well as the military. That was an entirely mistaken impression.

It was not asserted by General MacCready that there have been no reprisals by the police and military. On the contrary, he explained why reprisals occurred, saying that any army officer would understand these actions by the spirit which led to them.

"If the police were able to cope with the situation," General MacCready said, "there would be no need of the presence in Ireland of either 'Black and Tans' or military," and he continued:

"But, as a result of murders, forced resignations and the impossibility of recruiting the Royal Constabulary, it was found imperative to augment the forces of law and order from England."

Hunger Strikers

Discussing the Government's attitude toward the Cork hunger strike, the general said:

"The Irish Republican army having disorganized not only the machinery of justice in this country but also the transport of mails, have themselves to blame if more time than usual has been lost by the Government in taking the steps required to bring to trial men accused of murder and sedition."

He pointed out that less time had elapsed in preparing the cases for trial by court-martial than if they had come before the regular courts in the old way. He declared, furthermore, that the Cork prisoners would be surer of receiving impartial justice before a court martial than before ordinary courts.

He said the Cork prisoners were among twenty of twenty-five suspects, the others having been weeded out when an investigation showed there was no chance of successfully prosecuting them. But against the eleven hunger strikers, the Government considered it had a strong case in each instance and every case involved the taking of life.

SINN FEIN MEETING IN TORONTO BANNED

Toronto, Sept. 24.—No meeting of sympathizers with Sinn Feiners will be permitted in this city, according to announcement made yesterday by Acting Police Chief Dixon.

As a result of many protests against a meeting which the Self-Determination League for Ireland in Canada proposed to hold here next week and a suggestion from Mayor T. L. Church that it would not be advisable to allow the meeting, the Board of Police Commissioners definitely decided to put the ban on it.

LUCRATIVE BUSINESS

Viborg, Finland, Sept. 24.—Hiring Finnish men to marry Russian women to enable the latter to get out of Russia has become a popular and lucrative business in the border towns south of Viborg. The Finns exact a high price, but the method is unfailing. It makes a Finnish subject of the woman, and is recognized as lawful by the two countries, which have assumed diplomatic relations. Endless trouble ensues, of course, if the woman thus freed of Russia refuses to part with her pseudo husband.

These newly-married couples come out of Russia into Riarajoke, the frontier town, not more than thirty miles from Petrograd, with the daily exodus of Swedish and Finnish refugees.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

TROOPS FIRED ON RIOTERS AT TURIN

Sanguinary Encounters in Industrial Districts; Number of Victims

London, Sept. 24.—Seven persons were killed in the rioting in Turin, says a Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph.

A dispatch from Turin says that following an attack on Royal Guards troops were ordered out and firing began. The workers chiefly used hand grenades. Coolness of the troops prevented an absolute massacre. For two hours the industrial districts were the scene of sanguinary encounters.

In one quarter machine guns kept up a lively fire for two hours. Late in the evening order was restored, but the theatres, shops and hotels were closed.

Two deaths were reported as a result of the fighting in this vicinity, one being a striker. Six strikers were seriously wounded. Machine guns have been posted at all strategic points and both sides are preparing for further trouble.

A referendum among strikers has resulted in rejection of the agreement arrived at the Rome between the employers' representatives and the workers in the metal trades, says another dispatch.

Mobs Raid Palaces.

Rome, Sept. 24.—There have been sporadic attempts by poorer classes, fomented by the Socialists, to occupy uninhabited buildings, palaces and villas, especially in the outskirts of the city.

The most important of these attempts was made against the famous Villa Albani, owned by Prince Torlonia. A mob broke through a gate and fought amongst themselves for the occupancy of the best rooms. They carried portions of their poor furniture, which they placed in the beautiful gallery between the statue of a Greek Apollo and a fragment of a Venus and under pictures by famous artists.

Police cleared out the invaders.

MONTREAL SHAKEN BY BOMB EXPLOSION

Montreal, Sept. 24.—A bomb explosion yesterday at a house in St Timothy Street shook the whole neighborhood near one of the main thoroughfares. No one was injured, though blocks of masonry were hurled for long distances. The occupant, a French woman, is being closely questioned by the police.

The explosion is not thought to have any connection with "Red" activities, but is attributed to a desire for revenge.

SEEK TAXATION CHANGES

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—Beyond expressing a wide diversity of views as to the manner in which civic taxation might be broadened, the conference at the City Hall yesterday called by Mayor Gale, did not make any further progress than to submit a resolution providing for the engagement of an eminent tax expert to report and recommend on the best sources from which to obtain more revenue.

The resolution was laid on the table for a week.

BEST ADMINISTERED BOARD OF ITS KIND

B. C. Workmen's Compensation Law Most Efficient, and Economic

Vancouver, Sept. 24.—With the definite opinion that the Workmen's Compensation Board of British Columbia is the best administered Board of its kind on the continent, a Minnesota State Commission is here investigating the working of the Provincial Board, E. S. H. Winn, chairman, affording them every assistance.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics of Washington, in urging the Commission to come here, addressed its members that the British Columbia Workmen's Compensation law is the most efficient, most economic and most comprehensive of any of its kind in Canada or the United States.

Hon. W. I. Nolan, who heads the commission, is speaker of the Minnesota State Legislature.

A report is to be made on the advisability of eliminating all private workmen's compensation insurance in the States.

OFFICERS ALLOWED SPLENDOR OF FORMER ESTATE IN AUSTRIA

Vienna, Sept. 24.—A former officer of the Austrian army was walking through a poor quarter of the city in full uniform when a workmen's councillor ordered him to remove his clanking spurs. An altercation ensued leading to a suit by the officer for defamation. The court gave him damages to the amount of 1,000 crowns and told him he could wear the splendor of his former estate when and where he would. The workmen's councillor pleaded that he and his neighbors objected to such a reminder of the old time authority of the military class.

Since the ratification of the treaty, officers in the full uniform of the old army with breastloads of medals and decorations, have become very much in evidence on the promenades. Many of them say their uniforms are the only decent clothes they have.

GRAIN MOVEMENT IS SATISFACTORY

Railways Arranging to Provide Cars to Handle Western Crop

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—So far as officials of the Department of Railways have been informed, the movement of grain over the railway lines in the Prairies Provinces is proceeding satisfactorily.

There is known to be an immense demand for wheat cars, now that threshing is well under way, this demand arising out of the fact that all the farmers who have finished their threshing are attempting to get their grain down to the head of the lakes before the close of navigation.

However, every effort was made before the opening of the grain movement to marshal a supply of grain cars at Western points, and there is thought to be still considerable reserves on hand.

It is pointed out that complaints of car shortage on any of the various lines serving the wheat-growing districts would be handled by the Canadian Railway Association, and these matters would not come before the Railway Department to any extent.

RUSSIAN NOBILITY WORKING IN FRANCE

Paris, Sept. 24.—Many of the Russian nobility who fled from Bolshevism to France now meet its chief requirement—that all must work with their hands that they may eat.

The roster of deposed Royalty is long but every few days there comes to public knowledge the situation of another Russian person of prominence whom adversity has not conquered.

A large dairy farm has been established near Paris by Count Paul Ignatieff where members of that family and some of their noble friends are reconstructing another fortune.

The Duke of Leuchtenberg-Beauharnais is farming near Tours. The Prince Lyszezynski is a bank clerk. Princess Mestcheroky and a number of others are commercializing their knowledge of art, doing interior decorating. Prince Goudacheff, once Russian Ambassador to Spain, is a farmer. General Nicolajeff drives a truck and many Russian officers are mechanics and some are taxicab chauffeurs.

GAME DRIVE IN ZULULAND TO STOP RAVAGES OF FLIES

Johannesburg, South Africa, Sept. 24.—A great game drive is in progress in Zululand, with the object of stopping the ravages of the tsetse fly, which is fatal to equines and bovines.

Whole tribes of Zulus, attracted by the prospect of unlimited meat, are taking part in the drive. They are mostly armed with assagais, the native spears.

It is thought, however, that the size of the drive is defeating its own object. The wild creatures have become panic stricken and the ludicrous situation now exists of the hunters having become the hunted.

The great cordon of white men and Zulus has been broken in several places by charging herds of frantic zebra and other animals, and the hunters have been compelled to split up into little parties for their own safety.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion

IMMIGRATION IN UNITED STATES

Thirty-four Millions Have Entered Country in Past Century

Washington, Sept. 24. — Thirty-four millions of immigrants have entered the United States in the past century. In the same time the population of the country has increased 97,000,000.

Until the world war the effect of immigration on the population increase was very marked, amounting to more than 50 per cent. in the decade ending in 1910. It exceeded 40 per cent. in the ten years ending with the present year and immigration Bureau officials are of the opinion that had the war not intervened the percentage for this decade would have been grater than that of the last.

During the first ten years of the century or from 1820 to 1830 the number of immigrants arriving in the United States was less than one per cent. of the increase in population, the figures being 143,439 immigrants and 3,227,567 population increase. In the next ten years this one per cent. had grown to twelve, the census of 1840 showing a population of 17,069,453 with an increase of 4,203,433 while during the same period 599,125 immigrants entered the country.

In the next decade ended in 1850 the population increased 6,122,423 while immigration totalled 1,713,251 or slightly more than 16 per cent.

In the ten years ended in 1860 the population increase was 8,251,445 while immigrants entering the country numbered 2,598,214 or more than 25 per cent. of the population increase.

The next decade saw the population increase 7,115,050 and immigration totalled 2,314,824 or slightly more than 28 per cent. The percentage decreased during the ten years ended with 1880 owing to an unusually large increase in population. This increase was 11,597,412 while the total of immigration was 2,812,191 or about 19 per cent. In the decade ended in 1890 the population increased 12,791,931 while 5,246,613 immigrants entered the country making the percentage about 42 per cent.

In the succeeding decade ended in 1900 there was a sharp decrease in immigration with the result that persons coming into the country represented only about 23 per cent. of the population increase. This was 13,046,861 while the number of immigrants arriving was 3,844,420.

While the population increase remained at about the same ratio during the decade ending in 1910 there was a very decided increase in the number of immigrants, the former being 15,977,691 and the latter 8,795,386.

Past Decade.

The estimated increase for the ten years ended this year (1920) is 14,000,000 while the total number of immigrants during this period was 6,100,000. The percentage ratio thus was only about 43 per cent. this being due to the falling off in immigration during the four years of the world war.

Of the 34,000,000 immigrants entering the country in the last 100 years, nearly one-fourth of them, or 8,205,675 came from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. Germany furnished the second largest number, 5,495,539 and Italy the third largest, 4,100,740. Austria-Hungary was next behind Italy with 4,068,448, while Russia was fifth with 3,311,406. The Scandinavian countries, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, have sent 2,134,414 of their citizens to the United States.

The total of immigration from France in the 100 years has been 523,806, the largest number from that country, 20,126, coming here in 1851. Switzerland has sent 256,707 persons to the United States and The Netherlands 214,508. British North America, including Canada, has sent 834,450 and Mexico 217,256.

Belgium and Roumania have sent the smallest number of any of the European countries, the total for the former being 76,587 and for the latter 76,922. It was not until 1894 that the nationals of these two countries, as well as those of Portugal, Greece and Turkey began coming across the Atlantic in any appreciable numbers.

The total for Portugal is given by the Immigration Bureau as 159,702; for Greece 352,883 and for Turkey 311,404.

Chinese immigrants have numbered 238,398, beginning in 1853 with 42 and virtually ending in 1882 with 8,031. The peak was in 1882 when 39,579 Chinese arrived. Chinese exclusion laws became effective about that time.

Immigration from Japan was first taken note of in 1892 and reached its peak of 30,226 in the year 1907. In 1919, 10,064 Japanese entered the United States, while the total for the twenty-seven years was 229,030.

From countries not specified, including parts of Poland, Serbia and many others have come a total of 2,100,000.

At the outset England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales furnished the bulk of the immigrants, the largest total from the British Isles, 272,740 coming over in 1851. By that time there also was a large flow of immigrants from Germany, the total in 1853 being 215,009, or the largest in any one year except 1882, when the high mark of 250,630 was reached.

Turn of Tide.

Immigration from the British Isles began to decrease in 1851, fluctuating between 32,000 and 160,000. In the twelve years preceding the world war the number of immigrants from those isles averaged about 80,000 annually.

The tide from Germany began to turn in 1887, and since that time the number of immigrants arriving here has steadily decreased, reaching the low mark of 35,734 in the year before the world war.

At about the same time that immigration from the British Isles and Germany began to decrease that from Italy, Austria-Hungary and Russia advanced rapidly. It was not until 1891 that the number of immigrants from Italy passed the 50,000 mark. It averaged slightly better than that total for the succeeding ten years, and then increased almost every year, attaining a record of 285,731 in 1907. The year before the world war it was 283,734.

Immigration from Austria-Hungary exceeded 50,000 in 1901, went to 100,000 in 1902, reached the high mark of 338,452 in 1907, and was 278,152 the year before the war. Russia did not pass the 50,000 mark until 1899, and it was not until 1902 that immigration from that country exceeded 100,000. The high mark, 291,040 was made in 1913.

The peak of the movement from the Scandinavian countries was reached in 1882 with 105,326. It gradually decreased thereafter until it was only 26,851, in 1895. The total the year before the war was 29,391.

In only six years of the 100 has the total of immigrants entering the country exceeded 1,000,000. Twenty thousand more than that number entered in 1905, in 1906 the total was 1,100,000, and in 1907 it reached the record of 1,285,349. The million mark was not reached again until 1910, the total for that year being 1,041,570.

Two years again elapsed before the million mark was reached, the total for 1913 being 1,197,892. In the year that the world war began 1,218,480 aliens passed into American ports, but in the first year of the war this total had decreased to 326,700. In 1916 it was 298,826. In 1917, 295,403; in 1918, 110,618 and in 1919 it was 141,132.

"So Long, Oo Long"

(Sung by Billy Murray)

YOU can always depend on hearing something novel from Billy, and in this his latest, you will not be disappointed. He sings and patters in Japanese—almost fluently—Oh it's a scream!

"Chili Bean" on the reverse side, is a "nut" song equally as good, also sung by Billy Murray.

STRIKE POSTPONED.

Mr. Lloyd George has succeeded in persuading the coal miners of Great Britain to postpone their contemplated strike for another week in order to enable them to meet the owners and discuss wages and production as essentialy related subjects. The Premier is of the opinion that if the men will listen to reason, and agree to the establishment of a basic line for output at a sufficiently low level to insure a wage increase if a reasonable rate of production is maintained, their pecuniary benefits will be in excess of those at present demanded without conditions. But whether the more conciliatory attitude on the part of the men may be taken as evidence of their desire to avert a strike will be more easily judged by the amount of toleration which is permitted to actuate their representatives at the conference, an argument, of course, equally applicable to the other party to the dispute.

Renewed negotiations along the lines proposed by the Premier will afford an opportunity to both sides to debate production and cost in detail. The men know that their average daily wage has increased exactly one hundred and thirty-two per cent. since the year before the war; they know that production has fallen off by twenty-five per cent. in the same period; they know that where 1,100,000 men working eight hours a day in 1913 produced 285,000,000 tons it required 1,200,000 men working an hour a day less in 1919-20 to produce 237,000,000 tons, and they realize to the full that the consumer is paying thirty-four shillings more per ton to-day than he did in 1913. It is obvious, therefore, that the economic question of wages is not determined by the number of hours a man works but upon the amount he produces for his pay. In other words the wage bill translates itself into the price of the product and the cost of subsistence.

INTERNAL DISRUPTION?

Recent developments in the city of Petrograd may be taken as an indication of what is likely to happen in other parts of Russia as soon as the "sovietized" population realizes that the Moscow dictatorship is unable to fulfill its promises. As long as the Bolshevik armies were marching victoriously towards the Polish capital the people at home, heartened or discouraged by superficialities, were content to be patient. And to a very large extent Lenine and Trotzky have been able to dragoon the masses into a state of submission that gives the Moscow Government practically as much latitude as it chooses to take. Nevertheless, there are limits to the extent of the Bolshevik power to involve Russia in a war of world conquest, and the weakness of her governing institution—due to its own false position as the representative ruling machinery of the Russian people—is the most important factor on the side of the Allies in dealing with her.

Moreover, not a few recent investigators into Russia's internal conditions as far as they apply to an ability to feed herself have expressed grave doubt whether a re-imposition of the blockade by the Allies at any future date would have the effect that has been popularly supposed. While they admit in the general sense that Russia is in urgent need of many commodities which must come from Western Europe they contend that the revolution has so destroyed the towns and cities that the population has adapted itself in such a remarkable manner as to become well nigh self-supporting. If that is the case the blockade as a coersive weapon has lost much of its edge. On the other hand, it might do just as much harm to the Allies as to the Bolsheviks. Nor must it be forgotten that Russia's great need of rolling stock is being satisfied to a very large extent by Germany, whose desire for amicable relations with her neighbor to the east has a much more selfish significance than that of becoming a convert to Bolshevism herself.

Bolshevik rule rests solely on force, and the return of peace to Russia is the shortest way of extending the revolt which took place recently in Petrograd and Siberia, against the despotism of the Moscow Soviet.

POOR TACTICS.

It is Mr. Meighen's misfortune that his campaign tactics should strongly reflect the tutelage he received at the hands of the Hon. Robert Rogers when that gentleman was enjoying his rather dubious distinction as "Minister of Elections." This and his inability to divorce himself from the cheap pettifogging practice of misrepresenting the policies and principles of his opponents, are going to make the Premier's travelling unpleasantly hard. For example, stigmatizing the United Farmers Party as seditionists will not help him to gain a solitary seat not now in the Unionist column, and almost certainly will lose constituencies already there. Electors are not going to be impressed by accusations of treason and Bolshevism hurled from the trenches of special privilege and the profiteer at any political party, and it is unfortunate for Mr. Meighen that he is unable to appreciate the fact.

The Premier's purpose in selecting Quebec as the place from which to call the United Farmers names is quite obvious. It is also rather amusing. He thinks the people of Quebec are so hostile to the farmers of the West because they supported conscription during the war that they will heartily applaud any unpleasant thing he may say about them. He is, of course, most pathetically mistaken. Mr. Meighen may not know Quebec, but Quebec knows Mr. Meighen; so well, in fact, that he could not count on six seats out of sixty-five, if an election were held to-morrow. And he could not count on any more than that number in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Quebec and the Prairies may not enroll under the same political banner, but both will be very substantially against Mr. Meighen, and so far he has not shown that he deserves a better fate. After all, the Premiership of this Dominion calls for size.

MORE PROPAGANDA?

According to a dispatch from Western Samoa two hundred German Samoa citizens have been deprived of their real and personal property without a hearing and deported ten thousand miles to the land of their origin. The narrative is a typical specimen of anti-British propaganda with New Zealand, by reason of her jurisdiction, as the target. The correspondent describes in picturesque language the acute climatic change to which "the weeping exiles" will be forced to accustom themselves, the enforced exchange of a tropical region for the cold climate of Germany, while he similarly explains how all these people fled from home to avoid military tyranny and establish a centre of modern progress in a savage wilderness.

It is all very pathetic, but ridiculously overdrawn. To begin with the correspondent does not explain how German Samoan citizens would be able to escape military tyranny by leaving their native land for another part of what was then the German Empire. We should also question very much his veracity in his charge that the deportations took place virtually after a fashion adopted by the Germans when the people of occupied Belgium and France—women, children, and old people—were packed off to Hunland like so many cattle, there to work for the maintenance in the field of the German armies.

It is pertinent to point out in this regard that when the Judicial Commission appointed by the Government of Australia to inquire into the status and behavior of Germans in occupied territory made its report in connection with German Papua—now under the Australian mandate—the definite prediction was made that unless cognizance was taken of the activities of German missionaries and planters they would remain as "focussers of discontent" in the future.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The City of Toronto will not permit any meeting of Sinn Fein sympathizers within its precincts. Quite right up to a point; but it should not be forgotten that fresh air is a good corrective for wild talk.

A Minnesota State Commission has come to British Columbia to study the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Board because it believes it is the best administered body of its kind on the continent of America. Chairman Winn and his colleagues may be pardoned for looking to the size of their headgear.

According to various indications from London the Socialist Press of Great Britain is considerably embarrassed by Mr. Lansbury's explanations. Yes, the position of The Daily Herald would have been much better if its editor had been able to tell the whole story before the Government wrote its own narrative.

Amerongen was en fete yesterday on the occasion of the opening of a hospital built and furnished by the ex-Kaiser at a cost of one hundred thousand florins. William the exile was bombarded with bouquets and words of thanks. Nevertheless it is a question whether upon mature reflection he would consider the satisfaction of his vanity cheap at the price.

Robert Smillie proposed to the miners of Britain yesterday that a new strike ballot be taken involving a decision as to whether the wage demands of the men should be referred to arbitration; but the Federation representatives rejected it. Was this tangible evidence that Robert has begun to realize how unpopular he is with the public and how it refuses to take him seriously? He may yet do good work if only he would drop his fanatical bid for something he scarcely understands himself.

WHY

DO WE SPEAK OF SOMETHING AS BEING "SIMON PURE?"

(Copyright, 1920, By The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

This expression, meaning "the real man," had its origin in the name of a Pennsylvania Quaker in Mrs. Centlivre's comedy, "A Bold Stroke for a Wife." Being about to visit London to attend the quarterly meeting of his sect, Aminadab Holdfast sends a letter of recommendation and introduction by his friend, Simon Pure, to another Quaker, Obadiah Prim, a rigid stern man who is guardian of Anne Lovely, a young lady reputed to have a fortune of £30,000. Colonel Feignwell, another character in the same play—they favored descriptive names in those days—being enamored of Miss Lovely and her fortune, avails himself of an accidental discovery of the letter of introduction, and succeeds in passing himself off as Simon Pure.

The real Simon Pure, calling at Prim's house, is treated as an impostor, and is obliged to leave the home in order to find witnesses who can vouch for him. Meanwhile, Feignwell, the villain of the piece, succeeds in obtaining from Prim a written and unconditional consent to his marriage with Anne. But virtue is triumphant in the end. Simon Pure reappears with his witnesses, the scoundrelly Feignwell is exposed, Prim discovers the plot which has been concocted, Anne falls in love with Simon, and the original letter given to Feignwell, is used to secure a happy ending.

In the light of modern dramatic standards the play may be considered lacking in some essentials, but it scored a great success when produced and the name of "Simon Pure" was gradually applied to anything which was genuine and above imitation.

WHERE IT STARTED

YACHT-RACING.

(Copyright, 1920, By The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The first yacht of which there is any definite record was the Rat of Wight, built in Cowes, England, in 1588. The first real yacht race was between boats owned by the King of England and the Duke of York, held on the Thames, October 1, 1661. The Water Club of the Harbor of Cork, founded 1720, is the first real yacht club.

RAILWAY EARNINGS

Toronto, Sept. 24.—Gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending September 21, 1920, amounted to $2,293,007 compared with $2,085,089 in the same week last year, representing an increase of $207,918.

PUZZLED PATIENT.

"Um, yes!" remarked the medico, in his best bedside manner to his patient as they stood in the consulting-room. "I'll give you the following prescriptions." And he handed him three small packages.

The patient opened them and read the directions.

"A powder for my headache," he said aloud: "a pellet for my liver," he continued, "and a capsule for my gouty foot." Then he stopped and pondered deeply for a moment. "I say doctor," he queried, "how'll the little beggars know the right place to go when they get inside?"

FRASER RIVER SALMON BENEFIT

Birkenhead Hatchery.

Five and a half millions of sockeye eggs had been collected at the hatchery on the Birkenhead River at the head of Lillooet Lake up to the 17th of this month. It exceeds all previous records to date by three and a half millions. Mr. Graham, Superintendent of the hatchery, states that the run of sockeye this year far exceeds in numbers that of any former year in his experience. The sockeye run to the Birkenhead River has always been more constant than to any other lake section of the Fraser. And the run to that river has steadily increased in the last few years. Last year thirty millions of sockeye eggs were taken for the hatchery. Barring damage to the weir by the unusually high water of the season it is anticipated that more eggs than can be handled can be taken. Mr. Babcock attributes the increase in the sockeye run to the Birkenhead to the successful operation of the hatchery.

It is too early to form an opinion of conditions in the Harrison, Morris Creek and Cultus Lake sections. The run to the Pitt is most satisfactory and sockeye are showing up at the hatchery stream on Harrison Lake. The run to Cultus Lake and Morris Creek occurs in October and November.

His Opinion.

Mr. Babcock concludes his report with the statement: "As a result of my observations of the spawning beds of the Fraser basin I am of the opinion that the number of sockeye that reached most sections is far larger than in any recent off year. The total catch of sockeye in the Fraser River system this season will not much exceed that of four years ago, but the number of sockeye that escaped capture and reached the beds this year is certainly much greater than it was four years ago. For an 'off year' the conditions are surprisingly satisfactory."

PEAK OF HIGH PRICES PASSED

At a conference last night, Alderman Adamowski added, E. J. Stevens, manager of another big hotel, has promised "an immediate downward revision in prices."

"We have the facts and figures to prove to these gentlemen," the alderman added, "that they have been profiteering."

The alderman declared that failure to answer the summons would result in complete investigation of profits made by the firms, followed by a public announcement of the figures and a request that the firms be boycotted until prices are reduced or a representative is sent before the committee."

Potatoes Drop.

"Potatoes have dropped from $9.50 a hundred pounds to $2.50, yet an order of potatoes still costs from 15 to 40 cents," he added. "The same can be said of tomatoes, corn and beans. If these prices are put down where they belong, less meat will be eaten and the public will get relief from that source. Food prices are due for a drop and food purveyors will accept the situation gracefully if they are wise."

Break in Wheat.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Big breaks in the price of wheat took place today, largely as a result of agitation for a general cut in food costs. The smash of values in wheat amounted to as much as 12¾ cents a bushel and the market closed in a semi-demoralized condition, December delivery at 2.25 to 2.25⅛ and March 2.15 to 2.16.

Heretofore, wheat has been advancing despite setbacks in the price of other grains. The chief reason ascribed for such strength was huge sales of wheat for export to Europe. To-day, however, the stimulus of export business appeared to have lost its influence and especially near the end of the day the wheat market tumbled wildly downward.

Cormack was of the opinion that item No. 505 of the Canadian customs tariff 1907 should remain unchanged. Under it protection is afforded on but 30 per cent. to the lumber industry. He believed the measure of protection afforded should be maintained in order to conserve the market for Canadian mills.

Many difficulties were encountered by Canadian lumber manufacturers, declared Mr. McCormack. The mills here are considerably handicapped in comparison with the United States plants, because of the necessity of importing a large quantity of machinery and supplies on which duties must be paid. But local manufacturers did not urge cancellation of these duties; on the contrary, they felt the Canadian manufacturer requires some protection and the Government needs the revenue.

Box Manufacturers.

The Box Manufacturers' Association of British Columbia through J. H. Macdonald, asked the Commission that the tariff, so far as it afforded protection to the industry, be continued, but urged that veneer in the flat or in shooks, whether in multiple lengths or otherwise up to a certain thickness, be also afforded protection. The machinery for the manufacture of veneers is imported and dutiable, which increases the cost. Moreover, he stated, United States competitors are located in the Southern States, where cheap negro labor is available and these same competitors have a lower freight rate to the Ontario and Quebec markets than British Columbia manufacturer enjoys. If protection is afforded the manufacturers of veneers, Canada can supply the entire Canadian demand for this product, Mr. Macdonald said.

Cotton Goods.

H. A. Stone, chairman of the dry goods section of the Board of Trade, in submitting samples and prices of cotton goods, informed the Commissioners that during the past two and three years Canadian cotton manufacturing firms had supplied the trade with an article of superior grade and at lower prices than foreign-made cotton goods.

For Free Trade.

John Robertson, Vancouver, announced himself as a free trader contending high customs tariffs led to friction between nations and the upkeep of navies and armies. He referred to the position of Great Britain, which although a free trade country had been able to step into the breach and save the nations of Europe from financial ruin. He favored direct taxation. He maintained that if tariffs were abolished altogether Canada would be a better country to live in.

J. Arnold, representing Fraser Valley apple growers, asked that no change be made in the present customs duty on apples. "We can stand fair competition," declared Mr. Arnold, "but it is a fact that if there was very little or no protection American apple growers in Washington and Oregon would use the B. C. cities and the Canadian prairie markets as a dumping ground for their surplus fruits of an inferior quality."

WOOD AMUSED

Calgary, Sept. 24.—President H. W. Wood, of the U. F. A., displayed considerable amusement when his attention was drawn to the speech in which Premier Meighen charged the organized farmers and their leaders with having "aligned themselves with seditionists."

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HOROSCOPE

Friday, September 24, 1920.

(Copyright, 1920, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

THE early hours of this day, which is most fortunate in its sway, are dominated by Neptune, Uranus and the Sun, all in evil aspect. Later, Jupiter and Venus rule strongly for the good fortune of men and women.

It is not a favorable sway for making journeys, especially those that have for their object the forwarding of personal ambitions or business enterprises.

The aspects for this early Autumn seem invariably to foreshadow a most unsettled state of the public mind, in which both Neptune and Uranus have the most disturbing effect.

There is a forbidding sign for persons in places of power. They may find their plans thwarted and their supporters disloyal.

It is not a lucky day for applying for positions, for seeking promotions or for promoting any personal ambition.

Jupiter and Venus are in aspects read as foreshadowing great business enterprises for women, who will win supreme success.

This should be an auspicious direction of the stars for love affairs, and even though it is Friday, it should bring happiness to brides and bridegrooms wedded under this sway of the stars.

Lawyers, whether they be men or women, have the most important leadings while this configuration prevails, the seers declare.

This should be a day most beneficial for theatres and all who play in them, making especially for large financial returns rather than artistic success.

Hotels and restaurants will have the most prosperous outlook, according to astrology, but they will seek to conform more to home conditions, astrologers prophesy.

The ingress of the Sun in Libra in trine to the Moon is read as favorable for the country and the people generally, so that the Winter should find the world conditions improved, even though evil stars seen to presage much suffering in Europe.

It is prognosticated that many jurists and literary folk will end their careers before the dawning of the new year. This prophecy applies to Great Britain as well as the United States.

Distinguished visitors to this country from Asia as well as Europe are to be entertained in the Winter and Spring.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect a happy year, for both financial and domestic affairs should be satisfactory.

Children born this day probably will be high-strung and nervous, but prosperous because of good luck rather than hard work.

SAANICH PROHIBITION WORKERS IN SESSION

An enthusiastic meeting of prohibition workers for Saanich was held in the Douglas Street Baptist Church last night. G. E. Davidson presided. After the Rev. Mr. Habershon had conducted the devotions, Harold Beckwith, president of the People's Prohibition Movement, delivered an able address on the issue before the people at the present time. He made an earnest appeal for the people to cast their vote for the present prohibition law because it was the only way by which they could hope to secure the prohibition of importation of liquor into the Province, and thus curb the bootlegger, by cutting off his supply.

Rev. R. M. Thompson, secretary of the association, briefly outlined the work that should be done before the vote was taken. R. T. Chave, secretary for Saanich, made a stirring appeal for the prohibition of liquor in the district.

SAYWARD FAILS TO PURSUE SCHEME

Difficulties Arise With Regard to Co-operative Farming Project

The Sayward co-operative scheme for returned soldiers has failed. It was alleged at the time of inauguration to have the approval of local officials of the Soldiers' Settlement Board under certain conditions of management. The proposal had reached the stage of large orders being placed for material and fencing had been carried on, when high officials of the Board sent out inspectors to the Salmon River district, on the East Coast of Vancouver Island, and indicated that the statute gave no authority for co-operative management under the plan proposed, and that each man must proceed under his individual effort.

J. E. Armishaw was in the city yesterday to see the Industrial Commissioner with reference to a loan which the Department had authorized for machinery, which has been held up pending a settlement of the land holding controversey.

The settlers interested, who entered into an agreement in June, 1919, to take over the holdings of the Sayward Trading and Ranching Company, under which name the Armishaws traded as farmers in the district have found themselves in a difficult position. A petition has been filed by George Armishaw, son of J. E. Armishaw, through Bird, MacDonald & Company, solicitors of Vancouver, to the Exchequer Court of Canada asking for a declaration that the Crown may be judged to have sanctioned and approved the plans of the petitioners; that the Crown should pay $5000 damages for the destruction of the sawmill projects of the co-operators; for the transfer of the property held by the Crown to be used in the communal plans of the associates; and that a decision may be given that the co-operative plans of the petitioners may be declared not to be contrary to the spirit of the Soldiers' Settlement Act.

Mr. Armishaw told The Times that as a result of the decision of the inspectors of the Board who came into the district, and stopped the scheme going forward as a co-operative one, on the announced cause that it was contrary to the spirit of the statute, he has lost much money himself, the people who received the contracts for material have not been paid, and the petition has since been denied by the Exchequer Court.

He has made two journeys to Ottawa on the subject. He was assured, he states, by the Prime Minister and other officials, and by the late Chairman of the Settlement Board, that the sanction given locally to proceed with a co-operative plan was improper, and could not be endorsed. He asked for reimbursement for the soldiers interested, and payment of the debts of the concern, if a mistake has been made, but in this respect he has not succeeded in securing redress.

BIBLE LECTURES

Story of David and Modern Political Development Discussed

Dr. White began last night his second series of Bible lectures in First Presbyterian Church. The interest in these lectures deepens as they proceed, and the attendance increases. The lecturer has a complete grasp of his subject, which he presents with a charm and grace, becoming, and irresistible.

His subject last night was, "The throne of David." By means of his large chart he showed in a most realistic way the genealogy of the House of David. "The throne" said Dr. White, " is not in Heaven but on earth. It is not in London or Washington, Paris or Berlin, but in Jerusalem. That throne lies in ruins to-day and the king is not on this earth. There is a throneless king and there is a kingless throne. But that throne will one day be occupied by the king, the Son of Joseph the Son of David, the Son of Abraham." Further no one can ursup or occupy that throne, but He who comes by the lineage of David," the doctor argued.

This afternoon Dr. White began at 4 p.m., a course of five lectures, exclusively for the students of the city. This evening he will continue and conclude his theme of last night.

Hhis subject is, "The Phophetic Story." In this lecture he will use a large map of Europe showing how the boundaries of European countries have been changed during the war, and how these changes have all been in line with the teachings of the Prophets, and the unalterable decrees of God.

If a small fancy clock is beyond repair do not throw it away, but set it aside for use in the sick room; it will be found good to indicate the next time for taking medicine. As each dose is given to the patient turn the hands to the hour when the next dose will be due. This is better than trusting to memory.

When ironing handkerchiefs fold the best ones in the ordinary way, while those that are in anyway worn or stained fold three-cornerwise. The same rule is good to follow in ironing napkins, and fold worn tablecloths differently from the better ones.

TO-DAY'S JEWELS

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

Redolent of the Orient are the two gems which preside over mortal destiny to-day. Jade is the talismanic stone which serves as an amulet on this date, and lapis lazuli is the natal gem which exercises its powers for those who were born on some anniversary of this day.

Jade talismans are popular and prized among the Mohammedans, even in the present day. Indeed, "there is an orthodox Mohammedan sect whose members call themselves Pekdash," says one eminent authority on precious stones, "who during their whole lifetime carry about with them a flat piece of jade as a protection against injury or annoyance of every kind."

While the jade guards over the physical welfare of its wearer, the lapis lazuli looks after his mental well-being. This latter gem is a cure for melancholy and depression and creates a cheerful state of mind.

Heliotrope or violet is a fortunate color to-day. The ancients considered it the hue belonging to old age, and as such it is supposed to represent the sane judgment, tolerance and accomplishment that comes to those beyond the zenith of life.

The purple aster is to-day's significant flower.

ELKS WERE HOSTS AT ENJOYABLE DANCE

Over 350 Guests at Opening Ball at Alexandra Club Last Evening

In the realm of social entertainments few organizations meet with greater success than the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, and their opening ball of the Winter season held last night at the Alexandra Club added another to the long list of enjoyable functions to their credit. Over three hundred and fifty guests were in attendance, and the excellent music furnished by Ozard's orchestra and a perfect floor formed an irresistible combination which kept the dancers on the floor until 1 o'clock.

Shortly after eleven supper was served in the downstairs cafe, two "shifts" being necessary to accommodate the big crowd. Gus Brown, chairman of the Elks committee in charge of the arrangements, proved an indefatigable Master of Ceremonies, and much of the success of the evening was due to his efforts and that of the other members of committee, including: J. Wood, secretary, F. C. Dillabough, J. Rivers, O. M. McDonald and C. Brookes.

The Elks will hold the second dance of their Winter series at the Alexandra Club on October 28.

AGNES.

The Greek word agos, signifying a matter of religious awe, gave the adjective agnos, meaning sacred, pure, and it, in turn, names the tree whose twigs the Greek matrons strewed on their beds during the festival of Demeter, which the Romans called Agnus Castus.

Incidentally the Latin word for lamb is agnus, and since this animal was used for the sacred purpose of sacrifice, Agnes comes by her heritage of purity and sanctity logically.

One of the first women to bear the name of Agnes was the gentle Roman maiden whose martyrdom named the Church of St. Agnes. It is said to have been built by Constantine on the spot where she was put to the utmost proof and retains an old mosaic picturing her clad only in her flowing hair, being dragged along by brutal soldiers. Another ancient church covers the catacomb where she was interred and the story goes that while her relatives and pilgrims who came to pay their homage were weeping there one day, she appeared suddenly in radiant glory with a lamb of spotless whiteness.

The gospel for St. Agnes day was the parable of the ten virgins, and since she was accused of magic arts, English superstition arose that by watching and fasting on the St. Agnes Eve, maidens could discover their fate in marriage; by praying nine times to the moon and fasting three evenings in succession, they could secure whom they would. Keats, in his exquisite poem, "The Eve of St. Agnes," refers to this superstition:

"They told her how up St. Agnes Eve,
Young virgins might have visions of delight * * *
If ceremonies due they did aright:
As, supperless to bed they must retire,
And couch supine their beauties, lily white;
Nor look behind, nor sideways, but require
Of Heaven with upward eyes for all that they desire!"

Agnes is popular in England, Scotland and as a royal name in France and Germany. France calls her Agnes; Agneta is an English form; Agnese and Agnete are Italian. The Welsh form is Nest. The jewel assigned to Agnes is the agate, which gives courage and guards its wearer from danger. It is considered a cure for insomnia and insures pleasant dreams. Thursday is a fortunate day for Agnes, and two her talismanic number. If she dreams of her jewel it is a sign of a journey. Her flower is the wild rose, signifying simplicity.

Review Dance To-night. — The regular meeting of Queen Alexandra Review, W.B.A., held Wednesday evening was a most interesting one. Six applications for membership were received and accepted, and the first degree conferred upon others. It was decided that the review affiliate with the Social Service League, Commander Mrs. Galbraith and Lieutenant-Commander Mrs. Laing being appointed as representatives. Judging by the reports of the various committees the dance to be held this evening in K. of P. Hall promises to be a great success. Splendid music has been secured and delicious refreshments will be served by the committee of which Mrs. Galbraith is convener.

When a very hot cloth is needed in sickness do not wet the whole cloth. Take hold of the ends, one in each hand, drop the centre into boiling water and twist the cloth very quickly. The result will be a very hot cloth and cool hands.

TO AID SECONDARY EDUCATION CASES

Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., Had Busy Session Yesterday; to Told Xmas Party

That the primary chapters undertake the secondary education of the children of fallen and disabled soldiers, sailors and airmen, and that a fund for the assistance of such cases be created by the chapters was the substance of a resolution passed at the meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., yesterday afternoon. The resolution, which was sponsored by Mrs. E. S. Hasell and seconded by Mrs. W. H. Belson, was engendered by the reading by Mrs. R. S. Day of the report of the Patriotic Service Committee. Mrs. Day stated that the committee had assisted eleven cases since the end of June, one being that of a widow whose son was anxious to take secondary education but would have to forfeit a position bringing in $40 per month to do so. The members considered that under the spirit of the War Memorial scheme, the chapters should help this boy in securing secondary education, and the matter will be brought before the various chapters for consideration. In the event of the plan materializing, the fund created would be administered through the Patriotic Service Commitee.

The question of the annual Christmas tree and party for the children of fallen heroes was brought to the notice of the meeting by Mrs. Day, and it was unanimously decided to hold it as usual this year. As far as is known at present, about eighty children will be eligible for invitation. Mrs. Day was elected convener of the arrangements with the regents of the primaries as a committee. The date of the party has not yet been decided.

A letter was read from the Victoria Medical Society promising to give free medical attention to the fifty families of fallen soldiers, now receiving assistance from the Patriotic Service Committee, was received with gratification. Other communications included a letter from the Navy League executive, requesting the assistance of the I.O.D.E. in the holding of a Flag Day on October 21, Trafalgar Day, to which request the members acceded.

Mrs. Mortimer Appleby gave an interesting report of the work of the Soldiers Graves Commitee, stating that work was now in hand on four new graves, and appealing to the chapters for further donations. The report of the House Committee submitted by Mrs. H. A. S. Morley led to the passing of a resolution to the effect that in future the I.O.D.E. china would not be loaned for any purpose.

FAREWELL SOCIAL TO DEPARTING PASTOR

About seventy members of the Tabernacle Baptist Church gathered in the schoolroom last evening for a farewell social in honor of the Rev. B. H. and Mrs. West, who are leaving the district after three and a half years' service. Deacon Haines presided, and Deacon Hodges in a brief address paid tribute to the retiring pastor, whose acquaintance he had valued for the past twenty-one years. Mr. Brown also spoke in terms of regret at the pending departure of Mr. West.

Rev. P. C. Parker, of the First Baptist Church, added his tribute, after which Mr. West gave his farewell address to the church he has served so well for three and a half years.

A beautifully worded address was then presented to Mr. and Mrs. West by the chairman, together with a handsome eiderdown comforter from the ladies of the congregation. The occasion was also taken to present Mrs. Richards, the organist, with an umbrella and set of silver teaspoons in recognition of her faithful services. After the singing of several hymns, refreshments were served.

With the departure of Mr. West the First and Tabernacle Baptist Churches will amalgamate, but the Sunday School at the Tabernacle Church will be continued as a mission.

PARTY CENTREPIECE.

Use a stiff piece of cardboard for a foundation for this centrepiece for a children's party. A box cover with an edge is good to use tray fashion Make a little cabin of popcorn, sticking it together with the usual syrup used in making cornballs. A chimney, corner posts or porch trimmings could be made by sticking on pieces of striped stick candy. Set the popcorn house in the middle of the cardboard. Sprinkle the yard with cocoa to resemble soil and cover the edge of the box with either an edging of small pretty flowers or an imitation hedge of parsley. The popcorn house might also be a prize awarded at the end of the party.

DIRECTORS CLASH

One Is Being Sued For Automobile He Smashed; While Counter Charges Claims Illegal Payments

P. J. Sinnott, attorney for G. W. Palmer, in his suit against directors of the Silver Foam Co. for automobile hire and costs of repairs to his car that one of the directors of the company smashed, appeared before Judge Lampman to-day and resisted the move of Spencer T. Hankey to have the names of Paul Beygrau, J. B. Wood and J. Irwin Mann added to the defendants. Cornelius H. O'Halloran appeared to guard the interests of the three men named.

Mr. Hankey, representing directors of the Silver Foam Co., put in a counter-claim against the Palmer interests, claiming that the Beygrau-Wood-Mann part of the directorate had made illegal payments amounting to $3,000.

When Mr. Sinnott moved that the counter-claim be struck out as it was above the jurisdiction of the court, the judge cut it down to $1,000. The judge, however, reserved his decision about adding the Beygrau-Wood-Mann part to the defence.

OBITUARY RECORD

Th funeral of the late John Patrick Pilsworth took place yesterday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock, where service was conducted by the Rev. Father Silver. Many friends were present, and the casket was covered with floral tributes. Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery. The pallbearers were F. W. Thomas; F. Morall; E. S. Woodward; H. Hollins; B. F. Hollins and T. Arnold.

Evelyn Joyce, the six-weeks-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arthur Brown, of 1721 Duchess St., died this morning at the family residence. The funeral will be held from the B. C. Funeral Chapel on Saturday at 2.30. Interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery.

The remains of the late George Alfred Lilley, who died at his home at Crofton, B. C., on September 20, were laid to rest at Ross Bay Cemetery yesterday afternoon. Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick officiated at the service at the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the hymns sung were "Rock of Ages," and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The pallbearers were Messrs. A. E. Shore, L. Dickenson, C. Chadwick, J. Hall, J. B. Graves and F. J. H. Baines.

INCREASE IN EXPRESS RATES WILL BE ASKED

Ottawa, Sept. 24.—(Canadian Press)—When Chief Commissioner Carvell leaves for the West on Saturday night to hold the regular Autumn sittings of the Board in the prairie provinces and British Columbia, he will be accompanied by Commissioner W. B. Santel. The most important matter to come before the Chief Commissioner and his colleague in the West will be the application of the railways for a 40 per cent. increase in express rates. One sitting of the Board has been held at Toronto to deal with this application and it will be taken up at practically every point where the Board sits between Fort William and Victoria.

When the Board returns to the East at the end of October it is probable that several sittings will be held at various points before the hearing is closed, and it is improbable that judgment can be given before well toward the close of the present year.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. In Use For Over 30 Years Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

STORIES OF MOTOR CRASH CONFUSING

Judge Unable to Place Blame For Quadra Street Collision

Because evidence of what really happened at the motor crash one dark, wet night last December at Queen's Avenue and Quadra Street, was so conflicting, Judge Lampman to-day dismissed the damage claims of James Cronk and the counter-claim of George McMullen.

James Campbell, one of the Cronk chauffeurs, who has had four years' civilian and two years' military experience in France as a motor car driver, took the witness stand and told how on the dark, wet night of December 14 last, he was driving up Queen's Avenue, preparing to turn on to Quadra Street. At Quadra Street the McMullen car speeded down the slight hill, skidded between 20 to 30 feet and knocked the Cronk car eight feet, although it was a heavy seven-passenger machine, more than twice the weight of the small light McMullen car.

Bad Smash.

When the cars came to a stop the McMullen car had turned right around, one of the wheels was knocked off the axle, Campbell swore. The windshield was smashed and the bits scattered over the street.

Charles Cronk, operating a returned soldiers' automobile stand with his brother James, now sick, told of going out after the accident and seeing the results of the smash-up. Glass was spread all over the street and Mrs. McMullen was excited. He swore that although he paid $3,000 for the car ten months before, it was so badly smashed in the McMullen crash that H. A. Davie would offer only $1,000 for it.

No Place For Lady

George McMullen swore that he had been driving automobiles for nine years and had been using the car of the collision for five or six months. Eighty yards from the Queen's Avenue corner he stopped and put up his side curtains. Just as he was getting into high gear again the Cronk car came around the Queen's Avenue corner. He denied that there were any skid marks to be seen anywhere on the pavement in the vicinity.

Mrs. Mary McMullen said she and her husband had been to a theatre and were on their way to Sidney that night.

"I was really more angry than excited, and I suppose I said one or two sharp things," Mrs. McMullen testified. "Mr. Cronk accused us of running on the wrong side of the road."

"It was no place for a lady?" John R. Green, representing Mr. Cronk, asked.

"No, I don't think so, but any lady would be angry in a place like that," Mrs. McMullen replied.

She explained that the Cronk car was cutting the corner so that her husband's car did not have room to get by.

Mr. Green claimed that Mr. McMullen did not have his car under control, and in approaching a dangerous corner the by-law requires him to cut down to five miles an hour if necessary.

Should Blow Horn

D. L. Tait, attorney for Mr. McMullen, declared that it was a case of two cars approaching on a wet street and that there was clear contributory negligence on the part of the Cronk driver in not blowing his horn.

"If under the by-law the driver on the left-hand side has the right-of-way, it is equally his duty to give warning," said Mr. Tait.

"Both of these things are what motor drivers are prone to do," said Judge Lampman. In view of the conflict of evidence I am at a loss to say which party was to blame."

The judge dismissed the claim and counter-claim. Costs offset one another.

POLES AND LITHUANIANS RESUME HOSTILITIES

Warsaw, Sept. 23. — (Associated Press).—After fourteen successive attacks by three Bolshevik divisions on the front south of Grodno, all of which the Poles repulsed, said to-night's Polish official statement, 1,000 Russian dead were left on the field.

Hostilities between the Poles and Lithuanians have been resumed with renewed vigor, according to the communique.

TAXATION CASE TO BE SUBJECT OF SPECIAL MEETING

Council Also Will Deal With B. C. Electric Problem at Meeting

To get action on the church taxation question and the street transportation problem, Mayor Porter has called a special meeting of the City Council for Monday afternoon. The session is to be held at four o'clock in order that the members, if they desire, may attend Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's meeting in the Arena in the evening.

The suit between the city and the Roman Catholic Cathedral regarding the taxation of churches has reached such a stage now that the Council must decide whether it will appeal the decision of the Appeal Court of British Columbia to the Supreme Court of Canada or direct to the Privy Council. City Solicitor H. S. Pringle has been investigating the matter this week and will advise the Mayor and aldermen on the best course of action on Monday. Naturally, before making his report to the Council, the solicitor is silent concerning his recommendation. It has become known, however, that a number of aldermen—possibly a majority—favor a direct appeal to the Privy Council. They claim that the case would go to the Privy Council in the end whatever judgments might be rendered beforehand, and they consider that time and expense will be saved by a direct appeal.

Impatient On Street Car Problem.

A section of the Council is beginning to manifest signs of impatience over the long delay in the B. C. Electric Railway dispute. For weeks the Council has postponed the vital decision which it must make on the matter. Every time the Council meets a report framed by the Legislative Committee, which conducted all negotiations on the street transportation problem, has come up for discussion, but every time it has been laid on the table for a week.

The Legislative Committee, following the rupture of negotiations between it and the Street Railway Company, recommends that the city oppose the Company's application to the Board of Railway Commissioners for a seven-cent fare. The committee is not opposed to the seven cent fare in itself, but claims that, in return for such a fare, the Railway Company should be willing to grant certain concessions, chief of these being a six cent lighting rate and an agreement to maintain those portions of streets lying between car tracks. The committee even is willing to relinquish the proposal that the company lay the Pandora Avenue extension, and has abandoned the plan by which the company would give the city a percentage of its earnings. The committee points out that the company, earlier in the year, and up to some three or four months ago, was willing to grant a six cent lighting rate and to maintain the streets between tracks with a six cent fare and the elimination of jitney competition. It is claimed, therefore, that the company should be willing now, with a seven cent fare, to grant some of these concessions. This the company, however, has refused to do, so that the Legislative Committee has proposed that the city oppose the application for a seven cent fare.

Must Hasten.

As the Railway Commission will sit here in the City Hall on October 11, members of the Council feel that no time should be lost in reaching a definite decision on this matter. If the city is to oppose the application for a seven cent fare, they say, the City Solicitor should be given plenty of time to prepare a brief to be laid before the Railway Commission.

As a matter of fact, action has been delayed on account of the disagreement of members of the Council on the whole subject. Some aldermen are in entire agreement with the Legislative Committee, while others insist that the company's application for a seven cent fare, even though it is not accompanied with an agreement to allow a six cent lighting rate and other concessions, should not be opposed, lest the company, disappointed in its application, should cease its operations here.

LANDS TO BE SOLD WIDELY SCATTERED

Properties to Go Under Tax Sale Hammer in Business and Residential Districts

Preliminary lists of properties which will go under the City Treasurer's hammer at the tax sale October 5, issued at the City Hall, show that scope of the sale will cover the city pretty generally and that practically no district will escape it. The list so far available, of course, will be radically altered before the day of the sale as, it is expected and hoped, many people will pay their taxes at the last moment.

The present lists cover twenty-eight pages of closely typewritten matter and show the exact location of the different properties to be sold and the upset price—that is, the amount of taxes due—of each.

While it is probable that taxes on these will in many cases, be paid before the time of the sale, the lists show that large numbers of properties in the business section of the city will be sold. Many properties on Fisgard Street, Cormorant Street, Pandora Avenue and even on Yates and Fort Streets in the busy downtown section are slated for sale. Even if these lands should revert to the Corporation it is expected that they will be redeemed during the year following.

In James Bay properties to be sold are plentiful on Niagara Street, Simcoe Street, Toronto Street and Kingston Street, while in the Fairfield residential district the same conditions prevail. Moss Street, Linden Avenue, Fairfield Road and Olive Street all are fringed by properties upon which 1916 taxes still are owing. In district of the city lying north of the Pemberton woods a number of lands will be sold, many of them lying on Bank Street and Redfern Street.

In the northern section of the city the lands to be sold likewise are divided, some being on Shelbourne Street and Hillside Avenue.

In Victoria West, on Walker Street, twenty-three lots, consecutively numbered and on either side of the road, are included in the tax sale list.

VARIED HIS SYSTEM AND FELL INTO TOILS

The Police Department is still receiving advices from various centres in Western Canada as to the activities of Allan L. Coleman, the gifted "cheque artist," and there is every probability that his stay in British Columbia prisons will be of short duration, as he will be transported East to stand trial on numerous other charges.

It is stated by I. H. Mallek, through whose quick action in investigating one of Coleman's cheques the local police were able to secure the man, that the circumstances of the case were slightly different from those surrounding Coleman's activities in other cities.

Coleman visited the shop with his woman companion, who was known to Mr. Mallek, selected the garment for which the cheque was later made out, and ordered the goods to be delivered at the Empress Hotel. At six o'clock that night the garments were delivered, and instead of paying the messenger with cash as was expected, Coleman hastily made out a cheque on the Imperial Bank in Vancouver, but omitted the stamping practice which had been followed in other centres.

The next morning the delivery lad produced the cheque, and before including it with his bank deposit Mr. Mallek telephoned the bank at Vancouver and so discovered the imposture.

It was owing to this quick action that Coleman was laid by the heels, as he was preparing for an extensive tour of the Island, and had arranged for a trip to the Orient within a few days.

AUSTRALIAN NAVAL ESTIMATES ISSUED

Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 24.—(Canadian Associated Press).—The Australian naval estimates just issued provide for the expenditure of £3,266,000 as compared with £2,000,000 before the war. The personnel of the Australian fleet is given as 6,628. Before the war the Australian naval man strength was 3,827.

CONSPIRACY CASE.

Edmonton, Sept. 24.—The Coyne conspiracy case will go to the jury this afternoon. When the court adjourned at noon it remained only for Mr. Justice Simmons to sum up and for the six jurymen to retire and arrive at their verdict. For 45 minutes A. F. A. Coyne, the accused, addressed the jury, charging that he was not guilty of the offences alleged by the crown and that there was a conspiracy afoot to jail him and steal his oil interests in the province.

JAPAN STILL HOLDS WORLD'S RECORD FOR SEISMIC SHOCKS

Italy and India Run Close to Nippon Which Averages 1,000 a Year

Since 1769, the date of the earliest recorded seismic disturbance in Southern California, the Pacific Coast has been visited at intervals by earthquakes. These tremors have ranged from the slightest oscillation, detected only by seismographs, to shakes that have left in their wakes wreckage and casualties. But the number of the destructive shocks may be told off on the fingers of one hand.

A survey of the records of all earthquakes that have occurred in Southern California in the last 150 years shows that Los Angeles has never suffered damage from the few shakes that have visited the city. San Francisco, on the contrary, has suffered from three destructive and four exceptionally severe earthquakes, and besides, has felt many light tremors. The destructive shocks in San Francisco occurred in 1865, when numerous buildings were destroyed; in 1868, when thirty lives were lost and many buildings were ruined, and in 1906, when some 500 persons were killed and property damage estimated at $500,000,000 was done by the shake and by the resulting fire.

How Others Shake.

From this record it should not be concluded, however, that California is in any sense the particular home of seismic shocks. Japan, perhaps, holds the palm as an earthquake country, and other lands, notably Italy and India, have formidable records in this regard.

Japan by official record, has had in recent times an average of 1,000 earthquakes a year. The national architecture, in fact, has been largely molded by the consideration that a person's house may be shaken down at any time. The most destructive earthquake on record occurred in that country in 1894. It wiped out 100,000 lives.

Italy's black record in this regard is marked principally by the great Calabrian earthquake of 1783, which wrought wide destruction; the Neapolitan temblor of 1857, which killed 12,300 persons and was the third in severity every recorded in Europe; and the Calabrian and Sicilian catastrophe of 1908, when 77,283 persons were killed, according to the official records. Within the last 100 years seven other destructive shocks in Italy have cost 80,000 lives.

Charleston Shaken in 1886.

India has been visited in recent times by the shock known as the Great Indian Earthquake of 1897, which had terrific force, but centered most of it in comparatively barren regions in the Province of Assam, an by the Kangra shake of 1905, which though less severe than the Assam upheaval, killed some 20,000 persons.

Lisbon, Portugal, was largely shaken to pieces by a shock in 1755, one of the earliest of the great earthquakes studied according to the methods of modern science.

Nine in every ten houses in Charleston, S. C., were damaged by a severe earthquake in 1886, in which twenty-seven persons were killed outright and many others, some of whom died as a resudt, were injured.

Virginia has had many earthquakes.

A large part of Valpariso, Chile, including the principal public utility works, was wiped out and 3,500 persons were killed by a shock in August, 1906, which had been preceded by severe earthquakes in 1730, 1822, 1839 and 1873.

Manila has had two destructive temblors—in 1863, when 1,000 persons were killed, and in 1880, when 3,000 died.

Other notable earthquakes of modern times, proving that shocks rove pretty much around the world, are:

Quito, Ecuador, 1859, fatalities 5,000.

Mendoza, Spain, 1861, fatalities 12,000.

Colombia, 1875, fatalities 14,000.

Peru and Ecuador, 1869, fatalities 25,000.

Andallusia, Spain, 1884, fatalities 1,170.

Persia, 1893, fatalities 12,000.

St. Pierre, 1902, fatalities 30,000.

Kingson, Jamica, 1907, fatalities 1,100.

Turkey, 1912, fatalities 3,000.—Los Angeles Times.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NEWS

Kennel Club.

Nanaimo.—The seventh annual dog show of the Nanaimo Kennel Club, which was opened by John Hunt at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the spacious Agricultural Building, reflects great credit upon the enthusiastic and enterprising dog fanciers of this city, who have brought their yearly exhibit up to such a high level. There are 157 entries.

Nanaimo—The largest of the Nanaimo Kennel Club shows closed Wednesday evening. The growth of the yearly exhibits, which this year brought it up to the two point standard, is to be attributed to the energy and sporting spirit of the local executive. Irish terriers, poms, bulls, and setters are the special penchant of the local dog-lovers, but other classes were fully represented by many outside exhibitors. Two new showings were a fine Newfoundland by Mr. Hellier, of Five Acres, and a Belgian police dog, sharp-eyed and cock-eared, belonging to Mrs. E. S. Elsted, of New Westminster. This lady, as the closing function of a very successful show, distributed the prizes, which were quite liberal, a large amount of cash having been contributed.

Do Not Favor Plan.

Nanaimo.—After two addresses by Organizers White and Miller, of the Grand Army of United Veterans, who spoke to an audience of thirty Monday night in the Opera House, one man signed the application blank to become a member of the organization. The meeting, which was made up almost entirely of G.W.V.A. men, was presided over by Mayor Busby.

To Visit Valley.

Duncan—R. A. Copeland, president of the United Farmers of British Columbia, expects to be in Duncan on October 10. Arrangements are being made for a Farmers' Convention on that date.

New Lodge Instituted.

Sidney—Last Saturday evening Ruth Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was instituted at the Orange Hall, Saanichton. Miss Catherine Matthews, G. M., of Vancouver, Mr. L. Frith, G. P., and other Grand Lodge officers were present for the ceremony. There were quite a large number of Victoria members present.

Never a corn on millions of feet nowadays

Do you know that millions of people who use Blue-jay keep entirely free from corns?

If a corn appears it is ended by a touch. A Blue-jay plaster or a drop of liquid Blue-jay is applied.

The corn pain stops. Soon the whole corn loosens and comes out.

The method is scientific. It is gentle, easy, sure. Old-time harsh treatments are supplanted by it with everyone who knows it.

It is made by a world-famed laboratory, which every physician respects.

It is now applied to some 20 million corns a year. You can see that corn troubles are fast disappearing.

Then why pare corns and keep them? Why use methods which are out-of-date?

Try this new-day method. See what it does to one corn. You will never forget its quick and gentle action. Your druggist sells Blue-jay.

They are so convenient to take, and as pleasant as candy. One after each meal and at bedtime will quickly reduce your weight, two, three or four pounds a week, and leave no evil effects such as loose, flabby skin and unsightly wrinkles. Just go on eating what you like—leave exercise to the athletes—take your little tablet as directed and soon you will be your natural self, clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles. Marmola Prescription Tablets may now be obtained at all drug stores, or by writing direct to the Marmola Co., 92 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich., and their reasonable price—one dollar for a good size box—leaves no excuse for dieting or violent exercise for the reduction of the overfat body to normal proportions.

THE TURK IS AN ABSTAINER.

To the Editor: — Prohibitionists must indeed be hard up for arguments to bolster up their case if Dr. Ernest Hall has to employ such arguments as that alcohol is the cause of venereal diseases and insanity. A little figuring will show him how foolish his arguments are.

It is incontrovertible that alcoholic beverages have been used by human beings during the last five thousand years, and I challenge the prohibitionists to dispute or deny it. Now if what Dr. Hall writes is a fact, then if he would take a pencil and paper and work it out in arithmetical progression on the basis of the theories he has advanced, he will find that the world should have been totally depopulated long long ago. Yet it is strange that there are one thousand six hundred millions left today, and moreover authorities tell us that life is longer, and insurance actuaries inform us that the physique is better than it was in the past.

If alcohol is the cause of all the diseases to which flesh is subject, then any nation that abhors alcohol should be free from venereal diseases and insanity, and the people not being sotted and therefore able to think clearly (according to Rev. Ernest Thomas) should be pretty nearly angels, and the condition of labor should be perfect. Yet the Turk is a non-drinker (it is against his religion), but he is sensual, and certainly not free from venereal diseases or insanity. His race has degenerated, and the cruelties he practices are the refinement of barbarity (probably because he is not sotted and can think out how to do it in the cruelest manner). Anyone passing through Port Said on the Suez Canal will know that the Turk there is the scum of all races; he is the lowest of the low. And the Turk is a total abstainer from alcohol. On the other hand, the races which do not abjure alcohol are the most advanced and progressive. It is strange is it not? Kipling attained his greatness before he became a total abstainer.

The condition of labor among the Turks is by no means the best, yet if we are to accept Rev. Ernest Thomas's statement that the capitalists want to have labor sotted so as to exploit him, then as Turkish labor is not sotted, his condition should be a good deal better, but it is not. Strange, is it not? Doctors like other human beings are not infallible, and are not free from fads to which others may be subject. I will give a case in point. In a certain Treaty Port on the Asiatic Coast there was a little community of about forty white men and women, and they had a community doctor whose regular income was contributed by fixed sums subscribed by the settlement, but he made extras by practising amongst the indigenous people there. He was a good man, much liked by the community, he liked his whisky and soda, and his port and sherry, but he was not a drunkard by any means. His wife and family (he had three daughters and a son) are charming people. But he had one fad. He attributed all the diseases to which flesh is subject to malaria. On this point he was the joke of the community. For every trouble he recommends his 'Jet Ioh" (fever medicine). He was a clever man, he could master any subject that he took up, and if he had practised in Harley Street, he would probably have been in the forefront of his profession, but on malaria he was a crank. He would draw imaginary lines separating the infected from the noninfected areas, and his own house would, of course, be outside it, while that across the street would be in the infected area and so on.

I am only giving this illustration to show how doctors can differ. Just as some doctors would prescribe, freely, drugs, including what is commonly known as dope, and others would prescribe alcohol, and others again bromide, so it may be in this question of insanity and venereal diseases. It depends on what you are trying to prove. It would be interesting if chemists are required by law not only to publish the number of prescriptions with the name of the doctors for alcohol, but also for dope, in the shape of drugs.

Alcoholism and the drug habit may be the result of mental defectiveness, but not the other way about, as Dr. Hall would have us believe. It is because mental defectives are weak in mind and will power that they are unable to say "no," which caused them to become addicts. It is a fact that mental defectives are transmitted from generation to generation. According to an article which came out in the Strand Magazine some ten or fifteen years ago, authorities then by diagrams showed that a normal person marrying mental defectives will beget mental defectives. This may be the explanation of the number in the insane assylum, but not because normal people take spirituous liquors in moderation. According to Dr. Martin when he spoke before the Canadian Club, 75% of the mental defectives are aliens. Probably the over-anxiety to have immigrants from Europe, on the ground of assimilation and inter-marriage, may have contributed more to the condition described by Dr. Ernest Hall than drinking spirituous liquors in moderation. "Nuff said."

WHAT LABOR LEADERS SAY ABOUT BOOZE.

[No. 7].

To the Editor,—W. D. Bayley, Labor candidate for the Dominion House: "Prohibition is the greatest lever ever placed in the hands of the workers by which they will be able to achieve their emancipation from present evil conditions."

James Simpson, vice-president of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, 1918: "Prohibition has resulted in increased sobriety of the people, increased the efficiency of the worker, and increased effectiveness in dealing with their own problems."

Harry Veitch, chairman of Winnipeg Labor Party, 1919: "I am convinced that prohibition has proved a blessing to the Labor Party. We no longer have to compete with the barrooms for attendance at union meetings and the improvement in conditions is readily seen."

C. Lawrence, chairman of legislative board and legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers: "Words fail to express the wonderful benefits received by our members on account of the curtailment and prohibition of the liquor traffic."

Alex. Ross, Labor member for Calgary: "Residents of Western Canada have not yet realized how much they are indebted to the pioneers in working class to-day, which cannot be solved by men whose brains are fuddled."

John Bruce, general organizer for the United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters of Canada and the United States: "If the workers ever hope to liberate themselves from the bonds of wage slavery, it will be only when they themselves are strong and free from the destructive influence of intoxicating liquor."

The Labor Searchlight, of Calgary, said: "Cut out the booze. Every red-backed card should be a voluntary expression of determination to leave booze alone in these days of supreme crisis." And so we go on with similar expressions from prominent labor leaders and labor journals. In fact, labor has learned its lesson, and that lesson is that it has done with the booze. It is an enemy to all that mankind means, and to all that makes for further freedom and a pure national life.

Labor in British Columbia will no more tolerate the retrograde step of Government control than they did in Saskatchewan, and now the Labor group in the Ontario House is a unit in requesting that Government to take a referendum on total prohibition, and when we remember that at the convention of the Alberta Federation of Labor held in Medicine Hat in 1919, a resolution advocating a stronger beer than their present two per cent. was voted down in the interests of sobriety and progress, that the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council in March, 1919, voted unanimously in support of prohibition and instructed their delegates to the Western Canada conference held in Calgary to support such a resolution there, and that in 1918 the British Columbia Federation of Labor at its annual convention turned down a resolution favoring light wines and beer, are we not fully justified in the expectation that labor will neither overlook the opportunity nor shirk the responsibility to give the enemy another substantial blow on October 22.

ERNEST A. HALL.

A DIFFERENT MANCHESTER.

To the Editor:—In a Colonist editorial of the 23rd, the statement is made that Manchester prices have lately dropped one-third.

If this statement is meant to apply to Manchester, England, which the big majority of readers would assume, it is absolutely wrong. Recent advices from the city in question show a decided tendency to maintain or even advance quotations on cotton goods.

Manchester in the United States, where the Amosteag Cotton Company have a big plant, is the city which should have been made clear. Quotations from there have dropped considerably of late, but still are unable to compete with Canadian-made merchandise or products from the great English cotton centre, Manchester.

☆ ☆ ☆

Perennial Sewerage Problems.—The Saanich Council last night again had a number of sewerage complaints under consideration. Open ditches, into which overflow from septic tanks drain, were stated to be offensive. Councillor Graham wanted one such, where eight houses are affected, converted into a six-inch drain. The principle of using watercourses for conveyance of sewage flow being considered objectionable, the Council laid the subject over until next meeting, pending a report from the Municipal Health Officer and the Solicitor.

Gorge Bathing Pavilion—As a result of a threat of legal action by R. S. Thompson, to enforce removal of the bathing pavilion of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, the Saanich Council last night decided to ask the club to remove its gangway a few feet to the waterfront of Inez Drive. Legal advise from the Municipal Solicitor was to the effect that Mr. Thompson has no suit, but such action would entirely avoid legal proceedings.

It is hoped that Victorians will respond with their customary generosity at to-morrow's appeal.

WILL NOT ABROGATE EXISTING TREATIES

President Wilson Decides Against Enforcement of Shipping Act Provisions

Washington, Sept. 24.—Formal announcement was made to-day by the State Department that President Wilson had decided not to carry out the instructions from Congress to annul existing treaties between the United States and foreign countries by which the United States is prevented from granting special import tariffs and transportation rates on imports carried in American bottoms.

The announcement said the President had reached his decision before the expiration September 5, of the ninety-day period in which the Merchant Marine Act directed that he take steps to abrogate the treaties. It also was stated, that the President had not consulted any foreign Government regarding the matter.

PRICE OF LUMBER FALLS AT TOLEDO

Action of Henry Ford Said to Have Instigated Drop in Prices

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Lumber prices fell here to-day when a co-operative ready-cut-house company announced a twenty per cent. reduction in retail lumber prices. Company officials admitted that Henry Ford's action on the prices of automobiles instigated the decrease in lumber.

Wool Is Down.

Cleveland, Sept. 24.—A price-reduction of 15 to 30 per cent. in wools was announced to-day by officials of the Cleveland Worsted Mills Company, George H. Hodgson, vice-president of the company, in announcing the reduction said the lower cost of raw materials was the cause.

Fuel Oil.

San Francisco, Sept. 24.—Announcement that it had met the navy's price of $2 a barrel for fuel oil in order "to prevent the seizure of our plants" was made by the executive offices of the Shell Oil Company here to-day. The open market price for Shell Oil is for $2.35.

SCIENTIST PERFECTS HOMEMADE OYSTER

Conservationist Exhibits Colony of Several Thousand Bivalves

New York, Sept. 24.—Another blow at the high cost of living was struck when the State conservation commission announced that it had at last solved the problem of raising oysters by hand. Hereafter, oyster eaters will not have to depend upon the patural supply from the Chesapeake, Cape Cod, and Blue Point beds. They can, by following the example of W. F. Wells, biologist and sanitarian of the State commission, grow their own.

Mr. Wells, after months of experiment, has a colony of several thousand baby oysters, all hand raised and doing finely, in the laboratory of the Blue Point Oyster Company at West Sayville, L. I. They are all too young to be of any benefit to consumers during the present oyster season, but one of these days the hand-raised oyster may be expected to take its place in the bill of fare with such gastronomic wonders as the boneless shad, stringless bean, and clamless chowder.

When it is considered that a single oyster lays from 10,000,000 to 100,000,000 eggs every season, it seems incredible that alarm should be felt over the possibility of an oyster famine, yet that, according to Mr. Wells, is exactly what the world was facing prior to the discovery of the hand-raised product. The present short oyster crop is attributed to the failure of the oystermen to obtain "set" for young oysters. Once "set" the infant oyster can be transplanted to the growing and fattening beds, but the oyster men have been derelict and the crop of new oysters has consequently fallen below par.

Mr. Wells has succeeded for the first time in taking eggs from the oyster, putting them in an incubator, and bringing them up by hand until they reach the setting stage.

UNPROFITABLE.

Rome, Sept. 24.—Financial conditions in Italy make it impossible for the Government to sell bread under the present system without risking bankruptcy, Signor Meda, Minister of the Treasury, announced yesterday. The present deficit of about 6,000,000,000 lire has been caused by the system of purchasing wheat abroad and selling it below cost in this country, it is declared.

BANDITS TAKEN.

Prince Albert, Sept. 24.—Two of the Barrows poker game bandits have been captured at Peasend.

Organizing Plans.—The young people of Metropolitan Methodist Church are organizing for the Fall and Winter and have a very varied and interesting programme in preparation. On Sunday afternoon next at 2.30 o'clock the Sunday School rally will take the form of a special programme, and Rev. R. M. Thompson will give an address.

Amateurs Now Seeking Re-instatement in Union

Several Players in Amateur Tangle Have Applied For Their Former Standing—Interesting Problems Are Now Arising—What About Lacrosse Team to Defend Mann Cup?

Several of the amateurs who suffered suspension for playing with a professional have applied for reinstatement, according to a statement made yesterday by an official of the B. C. A. A. U. It is not known whether the lead taken by this small party of athletes will be followed by the remainder of those who are prohibited from indulging in amateur sport, or whether they will wait and see what their clubs can do in their battle against the Union.

It is believed that the Union will deal leniently with the suspended players through the fact that they acted upon the advice of the management of the teams. The report goes that the players will be reinstated within a couple of weeks if they apply to the officials. The matter is now up to the players individually. The delegates from various clubs to the Victoria Amateur Lacrosse Association and the Victoria Rugby Union have decided to secede from the amateur union, but it is not known whether or not the players themselves will abide by the ruling, due to the fact that their representatives to the B. C. A. A. U. were parties to the suspension of all amateurs who played with or against Walter Gravlin, as well as the cricketers who competed against the professional ball players. The decision of the footballers to stand by the union has put a different complexion upon the whole controversy.

What About Mann Cup?

As a result of the Victoria amateur lacrosse team, world's champions, seceding from the B. C. A. A. U., the question is being asked, "What about the Mann Cup?". For some time past the officials of the local team have had a hard fight to retain the silverware. The New Westminster club sent a representative over a short time ago to take the cup away, but he was politely dismissed without the trophy. The Victoria club has always contended that the Salmonbellies must win the cup on the field of play, as the champions were forced out of the league, not because they could not field a team, but on account of the heavy transportation expenses.

Now, however, a new question is opened up. With the secession of the lacrosse body from the B. C. A. A. U., which in turn is simply a branch of the C. A. A. U., the players have no amateur status because they are allied with no amateur body. The rules governing the Allan Cup very strongly demand than only amateurs shall play on teams which compete for the trophy. If the New Westminster team should issue a challenge for the cup at the present time a very interesting situation would be created.

Next Steps Awaited.

The next steps to be taken by the rival sides are being awaited with interest. The local branch of the B. C. A. A. U. is referring the matter to the provincial body, which will undoubtedly uphold the former's decision. What the associations which seceded from the union will do is a question of great moment. Some of the prominent members advocate the establishment of an outlaw body to govern amateur sports. This outlaw body would strike a new code of laws for an amateur, allowing professionals in one branch of sport to play with amateurs in other branches.

The situation becomes more interesting as the days pass.

Commencing at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning the Incogs and Burrards will play for the Tomalin Cup, which was donated last year by Capt. Tomalin for the winner of a match between the victors in the Victoria and Vancouver cricket leagues. The Burrards captured the Mainland honors this season and Incogs triumphed in this city. The match will be played at the Jubilee Hospital grounds and there will be six hours' play.

The Burrards are particularly strong and will prove bothersome to the Incogs.

The Teams.

The teams will be as follows:

Incogs—J. Wenman (captain), R. Wenman, H. F. Hewitt, C. C. Tunnard, P. C. Matthews, H. H. Allen, Major Tayler, F. Sparks, E. Verrall, G. Tracey, F. C. Sealey.

Burrards—G. R. Eaton-Shore (captain), W. G. Bullen, W. G. Ivamy, L. V. Murphy, A. J. Killick, R. Smith, W. S. Hood, P. Broadfoot, W. H. Barnes, H. H. V. Elwerden, W. M. Silcock.

BRITISH GOLF PAIR WIN ANOTHER MATCH

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, British golfers, defeated Charles Evans, National amateur champion, and Maxwell R. Marston, former New Jersey state titleholder, one up in a 36-hole exhibition match at the Merion Cricket Club.

Gamblers Are Bleeding Baseball, Declares Foreman

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Investigation of a report that George M. Cohan, New York theatrical producer, and Mont Tennes, of Chicago, had lost large sums bet on last year's world series, was understood to-day to be under consideration by the Cook County grand jury, which next Tuesday will resume hearing testimony on charges that the series was "fixed" for Concinnati to win. Published reports place Cohan's losses at $30,000 and Tennes's at $80,000.

The inquiry into the "fixing" charges will be pushed to the limit, acmording to a statement made by Henry H. Brigham, foreman of the grand jury, who declared that he was "shocked at the rottenness so far revealed." He added that "Chicago, New York, Cincinnati and St. Louis gamblers are bleeding baseball and corrupting players."

A Crooked Series.

State's Attorney Hoyne, according to a statement received from him in New York, declared he "had no doubt that the 1919 series was crooked and that at least one Chicago player was crooked." He added that a report that Cohan and Tennes had information regarding alleged baseball crookedness would be thoroughly investigated by his office.

Jacob C. (Rube) Benton, New York Giant pitcher, who told the grand jury yesterday of a bribe to lose a game, naming "Buck" Herzog, Hal Chase and "Heinie" Zimmerman in connection with the alleged offer in a statement published to-day, named four White Sox players as having been named to him by an alleged member of a baseball gambling ring in a discussion of alleged "fixing" of the 1919 series.

Dare Not Win?

Chicago, Sept. 24.—In a story here yesterday, B. B. Johnson, president of the American League, was quoted as having said he had "heard statements that the White Sox would not dare to win the 1920 pennant because the managers of a gambling syndicate, alleged to have certain players in their power, had forbidden it."

The gamblers are said to have backed Cleveland heavily.

GREAT BOWLING GAME AT HILL TO-MORROW

Civil Service Rinks Will Compete Against Rest of Beacon Hill Bowling Club

Horse races will not prove a strong enough side attraction to draw bowlers away from the Beacon Hill Bowling Club to-morrow afternoon when the Civil Service team will play "the rest of the club." This will prove a titanic struggle, and the bowling should be of the very best.

W. H. Cullin, president of the bowling club, is leading the Civil Servants, while Bob Dowswell, vice-president, is captain of "the rest of the club." Many think that the Civil Servants form the strongest part of the club, but Bob Dowswell has openly predicted a defeat for players from the House.

The Civil Servants.

The Civil Servants will be represented by the following:

Rink 1—1st, J. Cashmore; 2nd, W. G. McMynn; 3rd, H. M. Wright; skip, A. B. McNeill.

Rink 2—1st, R. Tuthill; 2nd, F. O. Morris; 3rd, W. Melville; skip, T. Cashmore.

Rink 3—1st, G. Vallance; 2nd, J. Mavor; 3rd, D. Dewar; skip, Jas. Raeside.

Rink 5—1st, J. R. Mountain; 2nd, D. McLean; 3rd, H. Renwick; skip, H. H. Culfin.

Spares—H. E. Morris and J. L. White.

"The Rest of the Club."

"The rest of the club," will form the following rinks:

Rink 1—W. E. Wright, Lowe, Renfrew and R. Dowswell, skip.

Rink 2—A. Wilson, J. V. Boyd, H. Ferguson and W. Chambers, skip.

Rink 3—G. Gormason, Gourley, Dr. Clarke and J. Munro, skip.

WHITE SOX FEELING GOOD AFTER VICTORY

Think They Can Beat Cleveland—Indians Hope Mails Will Stop Chicago

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Encouraged by their easy victory yesterday over the Cleveland Indians when they cut the latter's lead to a half game, the Chicago White Sox were determined to win to-day and replace the local team at the head of the American League championship race.

The Indians were not the least discouraged over their defeat, the first in eight games. They were confident that Walter Mails, their southpaw pitcher, would stop the Chicago batsmen and that the end of the game would again find them leading by a game and a half.

Urban Faber was slated to do the pitching for Chicago.

Steps to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's wholesale scalping of tickets were taken by the police following the arrest of three men charged with receiving excessive prices for tickets to yesterday's game. An extra force of plain clothes men have been posted in the vicinity of the ball park and at certain downtown places.

Yesterday's game.

For three innings yesterday Cleveland was leading 1 to 0, having scored a run in the first on an error by Risberg. In the fourth, the Cleveland machine began to crack. Catcher O'Neill was guilty of an error of judgment that allowed Chicago to tie the count.

The presence of the crowd in left field started the downfall of the Indians, as Jackson received credit for a two-base hit in the sixth that would have been an easy out for Left Fielder Evans, had the fans not been allowed to take possession of that part of the field. Errors by Bagby and Wambsganss on bunts by Felsch and J. Collins followed. Risberg singled and Chicago added three runs.

Relief Pitchers Bad.

Bagby retired in the seventh to permit Nunamaker to bat for him and Chicago scored five runs in the eighth off Caldwell and Uhle, who came to the rescue. After the first batter had been retired in the eighth, the next four hit Caldwell safely, two for doubles. Uhle was welcomed with two more hits.

Although he split his finger in the fourth, Kerr pitched masterly ball, holding the Indians to eight hits, five of which were garnered by Gardner and Evans. Jackson, Felsch and Schalk led in the Chicago attack, Jackson making two doubles and a single, Felsch a double and two singles and Schalk three singles. Every Chicago player except J. Collins made at least one hit.

Other Games.

Boston, Sept. 24.—Boston opened its final series of the season with Philadelphia yesterday by winning, 9 to 2. It was Myers' ninth consecutive victory, and he aided materially with his bat, his triple in the sixth coming with the bases filled.

Boston	9	16	0

Batteries—Perry and J. Walker; Myers and Schang.

Detroit, Sept. 24.—St. Louis won a double-header from Detroit, 8 to 4 and 3 to 0. St. Louis, although out-hit in the first, made its blows more timely.

Ispham Paid Backers Best Money of Week

Vancouver Derby Winner, Overlooked Since Meet Opened Here, Runs Five Furlongs in Fine Style—Several Favorites Came to Grief Yesterday at the Willows—Several Thrilling Finishes.

Ispham, winner of the Derby at the Vancouver race meet, proved the surprise packet at the Willows track yesterday afternoon, and repaid the few wiseacres who had planted their money on him at the rate of 12-1. During the early days of the meet this little chestnut did not find the fields nor the track to his liking, and had been figuring in the also-ran. Yesterday, however, Jockey Martin put him over the five furlongs in splendid style and outran the favorites, Little Jake, Welga and Sorrowful. Little Jake aped to the front with the flying up of the barrier, but was closely trailed by Ispham. At the turn into the back stretch Ispham quickly overhauled Little Jake and although hard-pressed in the home stretch reached the wire with half a length to spare. Little Jake was second, with Volima, Welga and Sorrowful coming up rapidly.

The card was replete with thrills, and the favorites did no better than receive an even break on the afternoon's sport. The track was very heavy and in the first race the jockeys and horses were covered in mud. The finishes were the finest and keenest of the week and the work of some of the boys in the saddle was exceptionally good. Small rode magnificently in the sixth and seventh races and Rettig performed well.

Sensational Finish.

The most sensational finish occurred in the third race. Although only four horses comprised the field they were a good match for speed and had four fine riders on their backs. Mazama was favored at the start and Rowe kept her in the lead until the first turn, when Martin forced Min McLeod, one of the fancies, to the front. On the back stretch McIntyre whipped Lady Edmonton to the front and Listal, with Rettig up, which lagged at the post, opened a hot spurt, bringing him into second place. The Breadin-Christie entry was closing rapidly on Lady Edmonton when he stumbled and nearly went to his knees. Turning into the home stretch Lady Edmonton had an advantage, but Listal came with a great rush, and as the pair flashed under the wire the cry went up that Listal had won. The figures in the judges' stand, however, showed that Lady Edmonton had won through having a protruding nose. Min McLeod was sandwiched between the leading pair and took third place by a head.

A Splendid Mile.

The programme wound up with a razzle-dazzle mile. Cibrieta went to the post a favorite, but Louis Lachmund and Belle of the Kitchen claimed considerable money. Cobrita has been a consistent performer, always in the money, but has found trouble in leading the field. When the gate was sprung Cobrita was left at the post. Small decided to set the pace and shoved Louis Lachmund into the lead. Belle of the Kitchen took up the running with Bonnie's Buck third and Cobrita coming up fast. On the start of the second lap Cobrita lay in second place and for a short distance Dehara came up strongly, but fell back. Entering the home stretch Cobrita came very fast but finished a neck to the bad, Louis Lachmund getting his second win in three days.

Gray's Favorite ran a splendid race in the opening event, and was seldom in danger. Tommy Chandler took the place, and Little Abe just missed the money.

McEwen rode. No Wonder to a popular win in the second race. Percival Knight was heavily backed, but finished third. No Wonder lead the field throughout. Toastmaster made a game rush in the stretch and took second place.

A gay field went away in the fifth race, with Ideal a strong favorite. Two outsiders got into the money, and Ideal was hopelessly out of it. Elmer K. set the pace all the way and had a length and a half to spare at the finish. Emelda paid well for place.

Ike Mills, Don Jose and Minnie H. were heavily backed for the sixth race. Ike, however, failed once more to show form, and Small rode Don Jose home a winner. Mineral Jim made a strong bit early in the race, but fagged towards the close. Minnie H. took the outside of the course most of the way, but came up to within half a length of Don Jose in the stretch.

The Results.

The results were as follows:

First race, 4½ furlongs—1, Grays Favorite; 2, Tommy Chandler; 3, Little Abe. Also ran, Toney Man, Irish Daisy, Ethel, Chantress, White Sox, Miss Creighton. Time, 1 3-5. Two-dollar mutuels paid, straight, $4.20; place, $3, $7.40.

The next time up he was out on an easy grounder, and then drew a pass, and in the eighth with the bases occupied and "Babe's" home town crowd, tense with excitement, Harry Frank slipped over a third strike.

A Conspiracy; and— A Confession

When a tax was promulgated on the better qualities of clothes worn by Men of Thrift, the free-from-tax line was placed at $45.

Merchant tailors went to Ottawa and wirepulled an advantage to $60; they had the Finance Minister persuaded to exclude Semi-ready Tailored Clothes from that new mark. Wirepulling is conspiring to secure something. This conspiracy was successful—"Semi-ready" was specifically mentioned as being excluded.

But it is a confession that $45 Semi-ready suits are equal in value to $60 retail tailor suits; otherwise, how could the Government be persuaded? They would not consent to an unjust line of demarcation—sure not!

There are two ways of buying Semi-ready Clothes:

CLOSE GOLF GAMES FOR LADIES TITLE

Halifax, Montreal, Toronto and Atlanta, Ga., Represented in Semi-finals

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 24.—Montreal, Toronto and Atlanta, Ga., are in the semi-finals of the Canadian ladies golf championship, which are scheduled for to-day.

Miss Sterling, of Atlanta, disposed of her opponents in the second and third rounds yesterday with a comfortable margin in each case. Her opponent to-day is Miss Bauld, of Halifax.

Miss Robertson, of the Beaconsfield Club, Montreal, has to meet Miss Mackenzie, the present Canadian champion.

The games in the third round yesterday afternoon were all close, except that in which Miss Sterling defeated Miss Hutton, of Toronto. Miss Mackenzie and Miss Fellowes had to play an extra hole in their match and Miss Robertson and Miss Bauld won from Miss Fellowes and Miss Nesbitt only on the last hole.

Charley Beecher, 123, of New York, and Frankie Burns, 122, of Jersey City, went eight rounds to a draw.

Clapham was unable to continue the match as his left shoulder was dislocated and the ligaments torn. Thye weighed 167 and Clapham 178.

JORDAN RIVER ATHLETES ORGANIZE FOR SEASON

Jordan River, Sept. 24.—The annual meeting of the Jordan River Athletic Association was held in the operators' quarters, Jordan River, on Tuesday evening and a large and enthusiastic number of supporters were present, Charlie Lindner being in the chair.

The secretary read the report of last season's basketball games, which was considered to be very creditable for the first year, Jordan River having played eleven games with outside teams—won 7, lost 4.

J. MacVivar was re-elected secretary and treasurer and a business committee comprised of Messrs. Patchel, H. Lea, D. J. Walker and C. Lindner was appointed. A committee to look after the social side was also chosen, and this is in the capable hands of Stan Gilley, Dean Coleman and Fred Amyes.

A game, married men vs. single, to start the season, followed by a supper and dance, was arranged for October 2.

The secretary will be pleased to hear from any teams wishing a game, and a good time is assured any visitors going to the River.

GIVE DIRECTIONS TO DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

Saanich Council Favors Provincial Control and Finance of Education

The Saanich Council last night gave close study to municipal government conditions, and possible improvements, when considering a roster of eight recommendations, the representatives of Revelstoke will present to the Convention of British Columbia Municipalities, to be held in Nelson on October 6. This discussion was for the purpose of directing Reeve Watson and Clerk Cowper, who will represent Saanich at the Convention, as to the opinions of the Council on the various points to be brought up.

Want Provincial Insurance.

The Council was emphatically and unanimously in favor of the undertaking of Fire Insurance by the Provincial Government. This was the final suggestion on the list of the Revelstoke Council, and together with the proposal that education shall be administered and financed entirely by the Province were the only two to be heartily endorsed.

The main suggestions made by Revelstoke strongly attack the proposed Local Government Board. The discussions at Royal Oak last night were non-committal, the Council saw merit to the plan of a central authority, and thought that, with care in drafting, such a Board might do much good, especially if its members were selected by vote of the various municipal bodies.

Fear the Politician.

It was feared that a Local Government Board might be tinted with the political color of the government in power, and the ideal results possible be therefore lost. The matter was finally left to the discretion of the two delegates.

A similar course was taken in regard to the proposal from Revelstoke that the Province undertake the control and cost of police work in the cities and municipalities. It was felt that, at this time, Saanich is well suited both in personnel and finance, but that the matter was open to consideration as the benefit of the Province as a whole was worthy of attention.

Support Local Improvement Act.

The proposal that the Local Improvement Act be repealed met with condemnation, the Council considering that, on the whole, the system as in operation at present in Saanich has been of good service to the community.

The Revelstoke proposal was that the ratepayers should vote on all moneys borrowed for improvements, and the Saanich Councillors considered this scheme too drastic.

A scheme whereby the municipalities of the Province would be reclassified into four grades, and made subject to special Acts for the government of each class, will also be proposed by the Revelstoke delegates. On this point the Saanich delegates will again use their own judgment when casting their votes.

The Council last night considered that Saanich would not naturally fall under any of the four heads proposed in the draft scheme, as there is a population in Saanich which is equal to the requirements set for first class cities while the natural conditions prevailing are those required for rural classifications.

Saanich Proposals.

The Saanich delegates will bring before the Convention propoosals for changes in the fencing laws, whereby municipalities will be able, where necessary, to compel cattle owners to keep their animals in fenced bounds, and relieve the grower of crops from the need of fencing his produce from the depredations of roaming animals.

Councillor Henderson spoke strongly on the matter, claiming that many residents in Saanich have lost the produce of a season's work in their gardens through rattle forays. Councillor Terrell said that the privilege given persons who own a cow for home use had been abused by owners of commercial herds, who were pasturing their cattle on other people's lands and the roadways at little or no maintenance expense.

A change in the section of the Municipal Act will also be suggested, in order that districts supplying residents with water may charge full frontage tax on all lots served, irrespective of whether the mains pass the full face of the lots. At present only the frontage actually in existence may be charged for although the service is identical with that given residences completely passed by the mains.

A Woman Likes To Be Admired, No Matter How Old She May Be

Nature undoubtedly made woman to be admired, and man to admire her. No woman ever gets so old that she doesn't want admiration, and no man ever gets beyond admiring her. Good looks in woman do not depend upon age, but upon health. A woman's health depends more upon the distinctly feminine organism than upon anything else. Between that organism and her beauty there is the closest connection. You never see a good-looking woman who is weak, run-down, irritable, out of sorts, fidgety and nervous. Headaches, backaches, dragging-down and troubles of that sort are all destroyers of beauty. Men do not admire sickness.

It is within the reach of every woman to be well, healthy and strong if she will take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the safest woman's tonic because it is made entirely of roots and herbs, without alcohol. (Ingredients on label.) It is fifty years old, and its age testifies to its goodness. A medicine that has made sick women well for half a century is surely good to take. Women from every part of Canada testify to its merits.

Send ten cents to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package and confidential medical advice.

Cross Purposes

SOME proprietors of Household Medicines have made the mistake of advertising their Preparations as something to take the place of the Doctor's services.

Some physicians, on the other hand, have maintained that All Household or Proprietary Medicines are worthless and should not be sold.

The facts, as usual, lie between these extreme views.

"Call the Doctor," should be the first thought when there is illness or injury. Get his opinion, and follow his directions. But sometimes there are cases of sudden sickness or a minor accident when the right remedy, instantly at hand, will save much suffering and render any further treatment unnecessary.

This justifies the existence of the Household Remedy as an accessory to the doctor, providing in an economical and always stable form the medicinal virtues of some good formula (often a doctor's prescription) for use in the many minor ailments and injuries of every day life for which the great majority of people cannot afford the doctor's visits each time or, as on the farm, are so situated that they cannot obtain his services quickly, even if their means permit. Such a remedy is PERRY DAVIS PAINKILLER.

For nearly seventy-five years, this reliable preparation has been used on the farm, in lumber and mining camps, on the sea, in the homes of town and city, not only in Canada and the United States, but also in practically every country in the world for a few simple ailments which are everywhere prevalent, and for which this remedy has been found to give prompt and effective treatment.

In cold climates and in the winter season of others, a teaspoonful of PAINKILLER in a glass of warm water or milk helps wonderfully to ward off the evil effects of a chill; while a piece of flannel, dipped in a glass of hot water to which a teaspoonful of PAINKILLER has been added, wrapped around the throat of a child at bedtime, is remarkably effective for croupy or bronchial attacks.

During the hot Canadian summer and all the year round in tropical countries PAINKILLER is famous for the relief it will bring in acute attacks of stomach and bowel trouble caused by unwise eating.

PAINKILLER is also a very effective Liniment for bruises, sprains, insect bites and stings. In fact, this real Home Remedy is a good thing to have always on hand at home and when travelling. Price, 50c per bottle.

New family size, containing about two and one half times the quantity of the 50c. size, price $1. Families accustomed to using PAINKILLER for various purposes, will find that by purchasing the new family size, they can obtain this standard preparation at a cost, nearly as low as before these present-high-cost-and-high-tax times.

States Barquentines Will Pay Construction Within First Year

Brig. Gen. R. P. Clark Optimistic Over Prospects of Wooden Hulls Building for Victoria Shipowners, Ltd.—Contracts Already Offered With Return Freights.

"On a conservative basis, the gross earnings based on the present charter rates for a twelve-month period would be practically equal to the cost of construction of one of the 2,500-ton wooden barquentines," stated Brig. Gen. R. P. Clark to-day, in speaking to The Times on the prospects of the Victoria Shipowners, Ltd.

"The head of a prominent New Zealand import firm, the New Zealand Lumber Importing Co., Ltd., stated that his firm was experiencing great difficulty in finding bottoms for their imports, and that they would be prepared to enter into a charter for a period of twelve months or longer, which, at the present advantageous rates, would earn the above sum for this company," General Clark stated.

"The fuel situation is partly responsible for the present condition of the rates, while the appearance of a coal strike in the Old Country is having a large effect on the question of freights in favor of the sailing craft, the outlook for the windjammer is very rosy indeed. Operation of sailing craft now, at the present rates, should net rather susprising profits for the company concerned," said the General.

"All the ship brokers in Vancouver are of the opinion that there is a very bright prospect for the wooden sailing vessel on this Coast in lumber trade to South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. They state that return cargoes are now offering at equally advantageous rates. The cargoes thus provided for out and return journeys ensure the successful operation of craft that should show surprising profits, as outlined."

LAKE PORTS STILL IN THROES OF STRIKE WITH SOME VIOLENCE

Press Reports Conflicting; Attempt to Intimidate Non-Union Men

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 24.—Forced by striking seamen to cut her hawsers at the deck winches, the big Northern Navigation passenger steamer Hamonic cleared for the East yesterday afternoon with a full non-union crew on board, but not until nearly 100 striking lake seamen for upward of an hour hurled threats against the new crew. Lively scenes were enacted on the Canadian National Railway wharf during the afternoon. The steamer Maplehurst was also a target of attack by the strikers and 125 seamen marched to the head of the dock with the idea of forcing the strike-breaking crew of that steamer to vacate. The attempt was frustrated by the arrival of a squad of local police officers.

Some trouble occurred when the Home Smith, of the Algoma Central Line cleared from the wharf.

Late last night there was apparently no change in the strike situation. At the headquarters of the seamen's union, no word of settlement had been received. Five boats cleared the harbor Thursday.

SEES FUTURE IN BRAZILIAN TRADE

Trade Commissioner McCall Thinks B. C. May Work Up Extensive Commerce

Major C. McCall, Canadian Trade Commissioner for Brazil, who is now on his way south to take up his new duties, was in the city to-day. He left by the 2.30 boat for Vancouver, where he will resume his investigations. While here Major McCall made a study of local trade opportunities with an eye to promoting trade between this section of the coast and Brazil. While not ready to disclose the result of his investigations in full, owing to the fact that he has not yet completed his study of local conditions Major McCall explained to The Times that there was a vast possibility of the building up of an extensive trade with Brazil.

When he has finished on the coast Major McCall will sail for South America and take the place of H. Johnson, former Canadian Trade Commissioner for Brazil, who will then be free to take up his new duties in the Old Country, having been posted to Glasgow with that end in view.

The headquarters of the Canadian trade commission in Brazil will be at Rio de Janeiro, he stated, which is the logical centre for its work.

THOUSANDS FLOCKED TO WILLOWS PARK YESTERDAY FOR AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Tranquille Exhibit.

Among the many features of a very interesting exhibition, one of the most attractive is the huge display from Tranquille Sanatorium. Unlike former anti-tuberculosis exhibits, this contains practical demonstrations by means of electrical transformations showing some of the conditions and habits which make tuberculosis communicable. No effort has been spared by the patients of Tranquille, who are responsible for this unique display, to impress the public of the vital necessity of preventing tuberculosis.

The specimens of human lungs taken from victims of tuberculosis reveal how deadly is the action of the disease. The air-cells of the lung which generate the energy for the human machine are destroyed by the action of the tubercle bacillus, which is the germ or seed of the disease, and it is pointed out unless the disease is caught in its earliest stages the whole or greater part of the lung becomes involved, rendering any attempt at a cure ineffective.

Many who have suffered from the white plague realize how easily the disease can be avoided. This realization has come to them by bitter experience, and the necessity of sanatoria treatment. With this in mind and with the assistance of the foremost tuberculosis specialists in Canada, the patients of Tranquille Sanatorium edit and publish monthly The Tranquillian. It is intended for the education of the well, and in interests of the sick. Few appreciate the necessity of such a paper until they are acquainted with the real facts regarding tuberculosis. Many have seen this necessity through the explanations of those attending the exhibit and have subscribed the necessary dollar to have this journal mailed to them for a year. Much can be accomplished in prevention by the acquaintance on the part of the public of the subject matter in the columns of The Tranquillian.

As to the activities of the Victoria Anti-Tuberculosis Society ceased some time ago, owing to lack of public interest, the people of Victoria are indebteded to the patients of Tranquille Sanatorium for their great effort to revive interest in this cause.

Home Products Fair.

The displays occupying the Home Products Building at the Willows Exhibition will be the centre of interest this evening, when the judges will decide which of the collections is the winner of the handsome cup presented by the Merchants Bank of Canada for the most attractive exhibit in the building.

The judges who will pass upon the merits of the stands will be J. L. Beckwith, President of the Board of Trade; Clifford Denham, President of the Rotary Club, and Mark Graham, President of the Kiwanis Club. They will commence the inspection at 8 o'clock and will award the trophy as soon as they have made their decision, probably around 9 o'clock.

The Home Products Building has been a great centre of interest to the householders of the city during the progress of the Fair, being the first point of call for most of the family parties which inspect the show.

It is in the evening the Home Products Building comes into its own, for the fine dancing floor upstairs has proven to be the biggest attraction in the show after darkness has fallen. The excellent orchestra has delighted the many dancers with some of the most delightful and up to date selections yet heard in the city, many of the airs being new compositions specially obtained for the Fair.

Mrs. Delville-Elstead, of the Strathroyal Kennels, is showing in the Kennel Club exhibit a fine Pomeranian, "Strathroyal Radh," which has taken prizes at Vancouver and Nanaimo recently.

B. C. COAST SERVICE
SPECIAL NIGHT BOAT TO VANCOUVER
SUNDAY, SEPT. 26
at 11.45 p. m.

MARINE NOTES.

The B. C. Coast service Charmer docked at the Victoria Machinery Depot to-day, where she is to undergo survey and slight repairs, and an overhaul for the coming Winter work. The Princess Mary takes the Charmer's place on the usual run.

The seaplane of the Leschi Aerial Taxi Company got away at 10.15 this morning for its home port—Seattle, on Lake Washington. Pilots Lundwell and Hammontree spent the last three days here looking over the landing facilities in connection with the Seattle-Victoria aerial mail route on which their company has entered a bid. The machine is of the regular Boeing model and equipped with a 100-horse power Hall-Scott engine, and should make Seattle in well under the hour. The pilots set off from the Inner Harbor, and flew north a little east, crossing San Juan Island and so south over the chain of American Gulf Islands.

Canada's Overseas Trade is $2,351,000,000

Sea-borne $1,046,000,000

Land-borne $1,305,000,000

More than half this land-borne trade is ultimately sea-borne—but in Foreign Ships.

Every pound of Canadian products shipped from a port outside Canadian territory retards our maritime growth, weakens our national prosperity and places control of a part of our sea-borne commerce in the hands of a competitive nation.

VARIETY

"Down on the Farm," United Artists' latest release, opens when the champion rooster of the ranch puts the sun to work early in the morning of what proves to be the busiest little day ever experienced on any farm. From that moment until the close of this Mack Sennett five-reel comedy sensation that will be shown at the Variety Theatre again to-day, every resource of the enormous Sennett studios in the suburbs of Los Angeles is involved with results, thrilling, comic, hilarious, farcical and furiously funny. Thrills are divided by laughter; suspense is relaxed in grins, and dramatic action of grave significance is interrupted by comedy episodes such as only Mack Sennett can devise.

PRINCESS

"The Wolf," now being played at the Princess Theatre is, beyond all shadow of doubt, a splendid play, the characters all being built from the beginning with a clever touch which shows a keen understanding of human nature. There is really not much choice between them, each one being so well drawn that the players cannot help but enjoy playing them, and are in consequence doing splendid work. "The Wolf" is a powerful drama in three acts, and the lighting and scenic effects are perfect. There is a wealth of romance and beauty in the plot of this clever play, and the glory of Indian Summer in the North woods pervades the whole with a charm that can be beaten only by the real thing. The next offering of the Mildred Page Players will be "Wife in Name Only," a clever comedy drama in four acts. Beautiful settings and charming gowns will be a feature of this delightful play, beginning Wednesday, September 29.

The next offering of the Mildred Page Players will be "Wife in Name Only," a clever comedy drama in four acts. Beautiful settings and charming gowns will be a feature of this delightful play, beginning Wednesday, September 29.

Remember "The Wolf" will continue the balance of this week with the usual Saturday matinee.

ROYAL VICTORIA

"The Slim Princess" adapted from George Ade's musical comedy success, featuring Mabel Normand, will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria theatre for the last time tonight. It has an hilarious plot, travelling at high speed in a colorful and fantastic atmosphere, and gives the star a role in which her admirers insist on seeing her also which made her famous in other productions. Everyone who is acquainted with literature is familiar with the name of George Ade, and "The Slim Princess" when first produced by him as a musical comedy was considered one of his best works. As a production the picture ranks high, and the settings are excellent.

DOMINION

Belvin W. Maynard, "the flying parson" and winner of the Trans-Continental Derby, broke all records the other day when he flew from Mineola, New York to Millville in eleven minutes. Lest the credulity of the gentle reader be taxed to the breaking point, let it be explained at once that Millville is the motion picture city erected on the plains of Long Island, near the Mineola flying field, for the production of the great Paramount Artcraft picture, "The Copperhead," which is at Dominion Theatre all week.

The town took a month to construct and represented a middle western village of Civil War days, being faithful in every detail.

PANTAGES

Eva La Rue, comedienne with "Little Cinderella," the headline act at Pantages this week, has the gift of the real comedienne, that of making the audience laugh without saying a word herself. Miss La Rue, who is built on generous lines, has merely to lift an eyebrow, seemingly and a roar of laughter surges across the footlights. Miss La Rue has no small part in the success of the miniature musical comedy, which is one of the brightest and most entertaining presented in Victoria in months. Arthur Silber and Eva North contribute to the gaiety of the performance with their clever little skit, "Bashfoolery." There are three other top-notch variety acts, with dances, comedy and song predominant.

COLUMBIA

When Douglas Fairbanks began the filming of "One of the Blood," says the management of the Columbia Theatre, where the big picture will be run again to-day, he broke away from every production tradition that he knew. This new film was to be Douglas Fairbanks's first release through United Artists Corporation—the "Big Four"—and he rose to the occasion. From every standpoint of production — settings, atmosphere, players and mechanical equipment—it is reported to outshine anything that Mr. Fairbanks has heretofore attempted.

TRAGIC STORY OF "LA TOSCA" TOLD

For the benefit of those to whom the operas include in the repertory of The Scotti Grand Opera Company, which will be heard here tomorrow night at the Royal Victoria are new, and for those who wish to renew their recollections of those works a succinct resume is given of the works to be sung by the company in this city.

The text of "La Tosca" is by Illica and Giacosa after Cardou's drama, the music by Giacomo Puccini. It was first produced at the Costanzi, Rome, January, 14, 1900. The story is tragic and terrible. Floria Tosca, a famous singer, is in love with Mario Cavaradossi, a young artist. She is in the habit of meeting him in the church where he is at work on mural decoration. While thus engaged a political refugee, Angelotti, appears and implores Mario to conceal him. The painter aids him and promises to shelter him in his villa. Floria enters and Angelotti hides. Her jealousy is aroused by Mario's confused manner, but he calms her suspicions, and when she is gone he hurries out to guide Angelotti to his home. At that moment a shot from the castle of St. Angelo announces the captive's escape. Scarpia and his police enter and search for Angelotti, who has been traced to the church. Mario is suspected, and Scarpia who covets possession of Tosca, plans the arrest and ruin of his rival.

The second act takes place at Scarpia's residence. The chief of police orders Mario's arrest, and sends for Tosca at the same time that Mario is brought in, and contrives that she shall hear the cries of her lover while he is being tortured, in order to make him reveal Angelotti's hiding place. Unable to endure Mario's agony she reveals Angelotti's secret. Mario is sent to prison and Scarpia, left alone with Tosca, tells her that unless she yields to him her lover shall die within an hour. To save Mario, Tosca consents, but stipulates that she be allowed to depart in safety with her lover next day. Scarpia agrees and says there shall be a mock execution. He writes out the promised pass, and as he hands it to Tosca she stabs him and goes to Mario with the release. In Act III., at the prison, the mock execution, as Tosca believes, takes place, but through Scarpia's treachery it is a real one and Mario is shot. Tosca throws herself from the castle parapet as an attempt is made to arrest her for Scarpia's murder.

POPULAR COMEDY TEAM COMING MONDAY

McIntyre and Heath, the oldest and probably the best loved of any comedy team the stage has known, and who recently celebrated the forty-sixth anniversary of their theatrical partnership, are to be present at the Royal Victoria theatre two nights only Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 27 and 28, their latest and undoubtedly most successful work, to which the cheery title "Hello, Alexander" has been given. Presented by the Messrs. Lee and J. J. Schubert, McIntyre come to Victoria direct from New York, where they have been enjoying the most successful and distinctly profitable run in the history of their association. The Messrs. Shubert are declared to have given "Hello, Alexander" a particularly massive and elaborate production, and the big company numbering some hundred people appears to have been selected with unusual care and fine discrimination. Especial stress is laid upon the fact that each of the two acts and six scenes are spectacular in character, and that the sartorial display is of unusual brilliancy. Edgar Smith and Emily M. Young wrote the book of "Hello, Alexander"; Alfred Bryan supplied the lyrics and Jean Schwartz composed the music of which there are more than thirty numbers. In the large cast of principals perhaps these best known here are Homer Dickinson and Gracie Deagon, Vivian Holt, Lilian Holt, Lillian Rosedale, Mabel Elaine, Betty Lewis, Dorothy Moore, Dan Quinlan, Edward Scanlon, Dan McNeil, Earl Richards, Phyllis Ray Brazie and Griffin, Chic Barrymore and others. The members of the big chorus have been selected not only for their beauty, but for their ability as vocalists and dancers as well. The dance numbers have been staged by Allan K. Foster and are said to mark a new high standard in ensemble "stepping and hoofing." McIntyre and Heath are provided with characters of the type so successfully portrayed by them in "The Ham Tree" of which their present vehicle is admittedly a legitimate and worthy offspring.

He—"Our cooks—we always have three, you know——" She—"Three cooks?" He—"Oh, yes! The one that's going, the one that's coming, and the one that's here."

FAMOUS MASTERS WILL BE HEARD

Short Biographies of Composers Whose Selections Will Be Presented

Piotr (Peter) Illyitch Tchaikovsky, born at Volkinsk, 1840, was one of Russia's greatest musicians. Preparing for law he graduated from the law school at the age of 19, and was appointed shortly afterwards to a post in the Ministry of Justice. But he began to doubt his fitness for a legal career, and his musical talent beginning to manifest itself more and more, he resigned his government position and entered the Petrograd Conservatoire, where he came under the influence and friendship of Rubinstein, who took the opportunity of producing many of the young man's works at his concerts.

In a short time Tchaikovsky became famous in Moscow, Paris, Vienna and Berlin, where his first works gradually wore down some decided opposition. Of his nervous collapse, through a love-affair, and a hasty marriage, which caused weeks of misery, his resignation at Conservatoire, his sojourn in Clarius, Switzerland, to recuperate, and the settlement of an allowance of 6,000 roubles for life, by a wealthy widow, a passionate lover of music, much could be written. After his recovery Tchaikovsky devoted his entire time to composition, always of a shy and retiring disposition, he made no public appearance until he was about forty-seven, when he conducted his own works in 1887 in Moscow. After which until his death he was overwhelmed with invitations to conduct in all the principle cities of Europe. In 1891 he visited America, where he conducted four concerts in New York, one in Baltimore, and one in Philadelphia. Two years after he was made Mus. Doc. (hon. c.) by the University of Cambridge, England. His compositions are full of national spirit and color, broad and passionate with traces of his love for the music of Italy. His music shows the strange and violent contrasts of mood; now full of wild and barbarous energy and fiery intensity; now of an almost maiden tenderness; now of a black and hopeless melancholy. His highest qualities are shown in his orchestral works, particularly in his symphonies, of which the orchestration is of the richest, modest cast. He wrote numerous operas, over 100 songs, pianoforte concerts, etc. Of his symphonies, six in number, it is safe to say, that no symphony orchestra is without at least two of this composers wonderful and beautiful works in their repertory. His chamber of music is played by all string quartets, and in op-11 in D, is the famous and haunting. Andante Cantabile known to all string players. Pianoforte players will also know the famous "Chant Sons Paroles" in the No. 2 of op-2, Souvinir de Hapsal. He died of cholera at Petrograd, in 1893.

The Tannhauser Overture.

All musicians will be interested in the fact that the Tannhauser overture will be played here by a symphony orchestra—Tannhauser is a three-act opera finished by Wagner in 1844, and the overture is, perhaps, one of the most popular pieces in the orchestral repertory. The first performance of this opera took place in Dresden in 1845, and as was the case when it was played in London for the first time it aroused strenuous opposition. But the opera made its way slowly in the various German cities, and at length in 1876, the dream of Wagner's life was realized when it was included with others of his creation in three complete performances of the "Der Ring," given at the Bayreuth Theatre, attended by musical notabilities from all parts of the world. When Wagner was forty-two years old he accepted an offer of the conductorship of the old Philharmonic Orchestra in London, at the fee of $1,000 for the season. This was not a very big sum, but Wagner being hard pressed for cash accepted. His season, however, at London was not what one may call harmonious or enjoyable. Harassed by his many critics he was censored incessantly, because of his different style and manner from Mendelssohn, who was then the English music "God." About this time (1855) in one of his letters to the great Liszt, he wrote, "I Live Here" (England) "like one of the lost souls in hell." At that time Wagner was famous, but some well-known concert arrangers "feared hazarding the reputation of their concerts by the devotion of a whole evening to Wagner." How times have changed. Now whole Wagnerism programmes are frequently given.

Cowen's Four English Dances.

The four English dances, "In the Olden Time," to be played here next week by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, were written by Sir Frederick Hymen Cowen, shortly after his completion of the last of his six symphonies, the Idyllic, in E. These symphonies were followed by his three orchestral suites. "The Language of Flowers," "In the Olden Time" and "In Fairyland." It is the second of the three we shall have the pleasure of hearing, and the suite consists of four dances: (a) Stately Dance, (b) Rustic Dance, (c) Graceful Dance (d) Country Dance. Sir Frederick was born in Kingston, Jamaica, January 29, 1852. At the age of four, his parents took him to England, as he at that early age showed unmistakable talent for music.

David's Fine Opera.

Filicien David (dah-ved') was a distinguished composer of the 18th century. He was born in 1810 at Cadenet, Vancluse, and was drawn to Paris in 1830, where he studied under Reber and Fetis at the Conservatoire. His early compositions met with small success, but after years of toil and study in 1844 his symphonic ode, "Le Desert," was received with delirious applause. His greatest success, however, was obtained seven years after when his opera "La Perle du Bresil" was produced with brilliant success. David had a beautiful voice, and composed besides symphonies, string-quintets, 'cello melodies, etc., a number of hymns, motets and other music. He succeeded Berlioz's at the Conservatoire-Paris.

"Molly on the Shore."

Percy Aldridge Grainger, born at Brighton, Melbourne, Australia, in 1882, received his first music instruction from his mother, a fine musician, and appeared in public as a pianist at the age of ten. His career practically began in London, England, where in 1900 he created a sensation, and played with phenomenal success in the countries of Europe. His American debut took place in New York, February 11, 1915, where he completely electrified his audiences. As a composed Grainger stands unique. He is self-taught, and instead of studying the great masters he turned his attention to the folk-music of the numerous countries he visited. He says, "I regard the study of native music and close association with folk-song (peasants, sailors) as the most fruitful influence in my creative career." It is the quality peculiar to folk-music that assured the instant and astonishing success of his compositions. His first appearance as a composer was at London in 1912, when he conducted his "Mock Morris," a work for string orchestra. Other works are "Molly on the Shore," "English Dance," "Colonial Song," "Shepherd's Hey," "In a Nutshell," "Father and Daughter," "Song in the Jungle," and "I'm Seventeen, come Sunday," etc.

[The above biographical sketches by George J. Dyke are published anticipatory of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra recital on Tuesday.]

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and raw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

LABOR SAVING EQUIPMENT FOR FARM ON VIEW

Progress in Effort to Simplify Chores Shown at Agricultural Fair

While the livestock building is one of the biggest centres of attraction for the farmer element of the visiting throngs at the Willows Fair, almost as much interest is being shown in the newest phase of farming, mechanical power, as is displayed in cattle the most ancient form.

At one end of the grounds is the splendidly designed and spacious new cattle building, which Hon. S. F. Tolmie incidentally told the stockmen yesterday had been built, under the supervision of Secretary Sangster, from the material taken from the old military shacks, as the Minister of Agriculture said, "To the honor of Scottish economy and the profit of the stockmen and the Agricultural Society."

From Oxen to Modern Power.

In that up-to-date building are cattle such as Scottish clansmen of olden times would have committed a score of other warlike actions to have become possessed of, and it is but a few years since the farmer used the mighty ox as his motive power for his farm activities. A score of the older men among the farmer visitors stand around those stalls and tell tales of the mighty work their well remembered team of oxen used to do, before the heavy draught horse became the chief farm source of power.

Then those same farmers adjourn to the other side of the grounds, and with as much knowledge as lads newly from agricultural college who knew not the ox goad, they discuss the merits of the multitude of labor and time saving devices which have made it possible for one man to-day to do more farm work than the large families of the old time settlers were able to accomplish in the long days then considered necessary.

Progress in Machinery.

Farm machinery has taken a stride in the past six years which is unbelievable to those not connected with agriculture, according to those widely experienced elders of the farming fraternity who so keenly watch the operations in the machinery building. No longer does the up-to-date farmer wield the hoe in the corn field, a machine does it for him while he rides in comfort. No longer does the team have to rest up at the noon shift, the tractor works all day and if needed, will keep up with the rush through the night by the light of an electric searchlight.

No farmer with a thought for his womenfolk now expects them to carry water, the same machine which saves him from pumping for his stock also supplies running water to the house.

In a score of ways the farm of to-day is as well equipped with mechanical power as is the modern factory, and the building at the Willows gives some idea as to the progress made, for practically every item on display is the creation of the past five or six years.

Drive Out Dandruff So It Won't Return

By A Specialist

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is well recognized. We appreciate, therefore, the importance of any agent that can destroy its power. For this reason it is a pleasure to give herewith a prescription which a specialist states he has found after repeated tests, will completely destroy the dandruff germs with a few applications. In many cases it will almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair growth after years of partial baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you—4 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. If you wish it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume.

ASSURES VETERANS ON DRYDOCK WORK

Senator Robertson Promises Satisfactory Employment Conditions

As a result of conferences between Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, and representatives of local returned soldiers, ex-service men are assured of preference over other applicants for work on the new Esquimalt drydock.

Yesterday afternoon Colonel Winsby, and Messrs. J. B. Clearihue and T. Axon met Senator Robertson as a delegation from Victoria returned men and urged upon him the necessity of assisting ex-service men as much as possible in the dock work. The delegation suggested that there be inserted in the drydock contract a clause making it compulsory for the company doing the work to employ returned soldiers to the number of sixty per cent. of its whole payroll. Senator Robertson, however, rejected this idea as he did not consider that it would work out satisfactorily. The Minister, however, promised to recommend to his colleagues at Ottawa that there should be embodied in the contract a fair wage schedule and that an employment agent, satisfactory to the Department of Labor, and to some extent responsible to that department, should be appointed. This agent will be a returned man and a union labor man, so that harmony will be assured. Disputes regarding employment will be laid before the Fair Wage Officer of the Department of Labor for settlement.

Senator Robertson said he proposed that, all other things being equal, returned men should be given preference in the employment of workers, with no limit to the number of veterans who might be employed. Local residents of six months standing or more will receive first preference if they are veterans. Above all, British subjects will be employed as far as is possible, as was outlined in these columns yesterday in an interview with the Senator.

Senator Robertson examined the drydock site during his stay here and also looked over the Cholberg Shipyard, in which ships, partially financed by the Government, are being built.

SUGAR PRICE DOWN

Sugar prices are down half a cent a pound wholesale here, because of the reduction announced by the B. C. Refineries.

To-day's price is 19½ cents a pound. On August 6 the price was twenty-three cents.

Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 24.—The situation in the provincial field of politics here is very unsettled. S. G. Barter, of Avondale, has announced his candidature as the representative of returned soldiers and asks support of all parties on his ticket. Hon. B. Frank Smith has abandoned party affiliation and will run as an independent.

Poultry Men Meet.—The British Columbia Poultry Association held a well attended meeting this morning in the Home Products Building at the Willows Fair, to hear addresses by Professor E. A. Lloyd, of the University of British Columbia, Mrs. Robinson, dietitian to the Soldier Settlement Board, H. E. Waby, of Okanagan, H. E. Upton, of the Vancouver staff of the Soldier Settlement Board, and J. R. Terry, of the Poultry Section of the Department of Agriculture.

JUDGE RELEASES SIX FROM JAIL

Citizens of Prince Rupert Were Sentenced For Whiskey Trafficking

The six Prince Rupert citizens, George A. Sweet, Charles Olsen, Oller Besner, D. Zarelli, John R. Miller and Kenneth MacKay, who were recently sentenced to jail for being convicted a second time for violating the prohibition act, were released on bail from Okalla jail last night when their attorney, Stuart Henderson, appeared before Chief Justice Hunter and got him to sign the necessary papers, following a writ of certiorari.

Mr. Henderson appeared at the Supreme Court here today, and filed papers so that applications for habeas corpus on the part of the six men will be heard in court here next Wednesday morning.

The six men were sentenced by the Prince Rupert Magistrate to nine months hard labor, because they were caught in a police raid in a whiskey resort.

LEFT $2,000 CASH

But Debts of Donahoe Estate Were $13,000; Lawyers Now Hunt Beneficiaries

When John R. Donahoe died he left $2,000 cash in the band and one piece of real estate to his sister and wife.

Arthur J. Patton, who appeared before Mr. Justice Gregory, of the Supreme Court, to obtain probate of the will to-day, however, informed the court that the debts amount to $13,000.

Efforts of lawyers to trace the sister since Mr. Donahoe's death have brought no results, Mr. Patton said. The last place she is known to have been in was Moline, Ill., but she does not respond from that city now.

The wife is illiterate and is in charge of the Indian Department, Mr. Patton explained.

Mr. Patton asked the court for leave to sell the land so that he can clean up the affairs. The judge, however, ordered him to serve customary notice on the woman through the Indian Department.

Mr. Patton also applied to the judge for leave to sell lands in the estate of F. C. Grancene. This application was started in 1914.

As Thornton Fell, K. C., who represented the beneficiaries, is dead, applications is to be made to appoint Joseph Clearihue in his place.

The Leckie BOOT

"As Good As It Looks"

The first glance you give a Leckie Work Boot tells you that quality is "sticking out" all over it. Your eyes tell you at once that here is a work boot that is built for comfort and heavy duty—and your eyes tell you the truth, for it's every bit as good as it looks.

The good, honest oak-tanned sole of a Leckie Work Boot gives many a day of extra wear. The solid, tough yet pliable uppers (tanned in our own tannery), not only gives service, but also gives that "restful" feeling to your foot. You'll never go wrong on a work boot if "Leckie" is stamped on the sole.

RSC INVESTMENT-SERVICE

Underwriting Industrial Canada

In addition to offering Government and Municipal Bonds, we have for fifteen years been associated with Canadian investors in the financing of forty-three great Canadian industries, employing a capital of many hundreds of millions of dollars.

The products of these industries have been as diverse as grain and telephones, sugar and steel, salt and cement, pulp and paper, cotton and lumber, coal and rubber, railway equipment and hydro-electric power development.

Despite this diversity of product, each industry has been fundamental to national well-being.

Basic necessity, plus natural resources to meet it, is the keystone upon which all our corporation financing has been done. This explains the confidence of investors in the security issues that bear our imprint.

GUTTA PERCHA TIRES Make Another Record

The above photograph of Mr. Percy Gomery and his Pathfinding car, equipped with "GUTTA PERCHA TIRES," cross-tread pattern, was taken on the completion of his "Across Canada" Pathfinding trip.

He covered the distance of 3,840 miles without a puncture or tire trouble of any kind, and states that the tires show so little wear that it is hard to believe that they have been run more than a few hundred miles.

Gutta Percha and Rubber, Limited, are to be congratulated on having produced a tire which stood up so magnificently under such an arduous test.

RECORD CORN CROP NOW PROMISED

Production For 1920 Will Be Greatest Yet, Department Predicts

Washington, Sept. 24.—The greatest corn crop ever produced is promised the United States this year by crop estimates of September 1 just issued by the Department of Agriculture. Those estimates indicated a crop of 3,131,000,000 bushels or 128,000,000 bushels more than was promised August 1 and 6,000,000 bushels above the largest previous crop on record, that of 1912.

The estimate is 200,000,000 above last year and almost 400,000,000 above the five year average. The indicated yield per acre, 30.2 bushels, has been exceeded but twice within fifty-five years, and then only by a fraction of a bushel.

The crop is good everywhere except northern portions of Montana, Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin, northern Illinois, and small parts of Indiana and Michigan. A late frost would permit maturity of much late corn, thus increasing the present prospect. Other crops are estimated as follows:

Winter wheat—Production, 533,000,000 bushels; yield per acre, 15.6 bushels, compared with 14.7 December estimate.

Spring wheat—Production, 237,000,000 bushels; yield per acre, 12.2 bushels, compared with 9.0 bushels December estimate; condition September 1, 64.1 per cent of 1919 acreage.

All wheat—Production, 770,000,000 bushels, as compared with an August forecast of 795,000,000 bushels; yield per acre, 14.4 as compared with a December estimate of 12.8 bushels; condition on September 1, 74.1.

White potatoes—Production, 413,000,000 bushels, as compared with an August forecast of 402,000,000 bushels; condition 84.3, as compared with a ten-year average of 74.0; yield per acre, 107.3 bushels, compared with a December estimate of 89.2 bushels.

Oats — Production, 1,442,000,000 bushels, as compared with an August forecast of 1,402,000,000 bushels; yield per acre, 35.1 as compared with a December estimate of 29.4 bushels; condition on September 1 was 88.3, as compared with a ten-year average of 80.7.

News of Markets and Finance

MOTOR AND RUBBER STOCKS AGAIN HEAVY

New York, Sept. 24.—Growing indications of a reduction in the selling price of pleasure cars, which is suggestive of much keener competition in the automobile industry in the near future, and the belief that many companies engaged in this line of endeavor will find it very difficult to maintain current dividend rates on account of the sharp falling off in demand for cars stimulated rather free selling in the motor department to-day. So-called alliances like the tires and steels are expected to suffer a sharp falling off in business and stocks of these companies were also under pressure. Naturally, the weakness in aforementioned had a somewhat sentimental effect on the last, but it was observed that the railroads, principally the low-priced issues, showed a tendency to break away from the dragging inclination in several industrial quarters.

Commodity values in practically all departments continue to trend downward as demonstrated by the sharp decline in corn, oats and the sharp reduction in cotton goods prices. Steady, but surely things generally speaking, are working toward normal, and the liquidation in commodities particularly being a situation much desired, is naturally improving the credit situation, even though surface indications of trade in some lines are unsatisfactory.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, Sept. 24.—A break of from 4¾ to 6¼ cents was registered during the last half-hour in the local wheat market due to the weakened condition of the United States markets.

Strength, probably due to weather conditions, was shown in the earlier hours of the morning with Winnipeg October selling as high as 2.61. Cash wheat was easier.

Oat premiums were off 1 cent, but barley and flax in which trading was light, were unchanged.

October wheat closed 4¾ lower, November 3¾ lower and December 6¼ lower; oats ¼ higher for October, unchanged for December and ⅛ up for May; barley ⅝ higher for October and unchanged for December; rye 2½ lower for October; flax 1 cent lower for October, 1 cent highest for November and unchanged for December.

SOFT CLOSE FOR CHICAGO GRAINS

Chicago, Sept. 24.—The opening quotations on the grain market here to-day showed a decline of ¼ to 1 cent. However shorts began to cover the market responding readily, corn gaining 5 and 3 cents respectively. Near the close with shorts getting pretty well absorbed another fresh selling power started to exert its influence with apparent excellent results, closing figures being the lows for the day. Wheat was a big feature in to-day's market, declining 10 cents for December and 8 cents for March option.

Help Yourself

Every last dollar should be hard at work to-day in productive enterprises—promoting Canada's great and necessary expansion—helping to ensure continued prosperity.

Among the million buyers of Victory Bonds in Canada were manufacturers and business men who bought them as a business reserve. Now, when expansions are necessary, some of these bonds are being sold and become available. In buying a portion of these you provide the ready cash which ensures expansion and capacity production. You help yourself indirectly by participating in the general prosperity. You help yourself directly by turning idle funds into profitable, earning funds.

Every idle dollar is a brake on the wheels of commerce. Put your money to effective work. Victory Bonds are beyond all comparison the best investment in Canada. They may be secured in seven maturities and may be bought in amounts varying from $50 upwards.

SAANICH ENGINEER'S DISMISSAL IS ISSUE

B. C. Technical Association Lodges Protest With Council

The Saanich Council last night filed with little comment a protest from the British Columbia Technical Association against the dismissal of Engineer J. F. Milne recently.

The councillors were inclined to question statements in the accompanying letter, though Councillor Dooley believed it would be difficult for Saanich to engage an engineer after the way Mr. Milne was treated.

The Letter.

The letter, which follows, was received and filed:

"My executive, representing over 500 professional technical men, protests in the strongest possible manner against your action in dismissing your engineering staff.

"The policy of employing an engineering staff for short terms only is deplorable from the viewpoint of a municipality and is disastrous to the professional men concerned.

"By the short term employment a municipal body cannot avail itself of the valuable knowledge learned by an engineer who has been resident and working in its midst for years, and the consequences of such an experience being available in the end is more costly to a public authority than regular annual salaries.

"The evil effect of a short term employment policy upon municipal engineers is self-evident and continued action upon such lines would make such engineers either extinct or poorly qualified.

"Further, by short term employment when particular urgency arises the public bodies concerned obtain from their engineering staffs highly technical knowledge and advice at a nominal figure at the expense of the staff."

"Go away from me!" said a fashionably dressed woman to a tramp. "I would not have you touch me for a sovereign." "I beg your pardon, I was only going to touch you for a copper, lady," came the reply.

RAIN, BECOMING GENERAL, HAS SPREAD INLAND

Victoria Has Had About Third as Much Rain as Vancouver This Month

Heavy rains, which have been so prevalent on the Pacific Coast lately, have spread to the Prairies and are now general throughout the western section of the continent, according to information received this morning by F. Napier Denison, Superintendent of Gonzales Meteorological Observatory. While weather conditions in Victoria have been none too satisfactory recently in Vancouver and other cities, Mr. Denison states, rains have been far more heavy than those which have occurred here.

Showing that the rains have spread to the Prairies, information received at the Gonzales Observatory to-day is to the effect that during the twenty-four hours ending at five o'clock this morning, 2.40 inches of rain fell in Qu-Appelle, .92 inches in Winnipeg, .96 inches in Prince Albert, and .86 inches in Swift Current. When it is remembered that one inch of rain represents 100 tons of water to the acre it will be seen that the prairie cities have received a thorough soaking.

Mr. Denison's information also makes it plain that the rain has spread to California and inland to Utah, and has become general over practically all Western Canada and the United States. Conditions in Victoria appear slightly better to-day, Mr. Denison states, though the glass is still low.

The total rainfall in Victoria this month, up to five o'clock this morning, Mr. Denison announces, has been 3.21 inches, which is 1.68 inches above the average for the whole month of September. Victorians may take some consolation in knowing, however, that the total rainfall in Vancouver to date this month has been 9.85 inches, which is 6.19 inches above the average.

SIDNEY PASTOR HAS ACCEPTED CALL

Rev. F. E. Letts Going to Clayburn; Presbytery Met Last Evening

Consideration of a call from the congregation of Clayburn, in the Presbytery of New Westminster, to Rev. Fredk. Letts, of Sidney, was the chief business at a special meeting of the Victoria Presbytery held in St. Andrew's vestry last evening. In the absence of Dr. Unsworth, Dr. Clay acted as moderator pro tem. Mr. Letts having expressed his intention of accepting the call, the documents relative were placed in his hands, the Presbytery expressing their regret at his departure and paying tribute to his good work at Sidney.

Rev. Dr. Campbell will supply the pulpit at Sidney from October 3 until a permanent choice can be made by the Presbytery.

Other business was taken up at this special meeting of the Presbytery, one having to do with remits from the General Assembly. A committee, of which Rev. Dr. Campbell is convener, will report to the Victoria Presbytery at its next general meeting, on the last Tuesday of February, the other members being Rev. Dr. Clay, Rev. Daniel Walker, and James Murie.

"My boy, you want to practice thrift." "I know, dad, but I haven't the tools." "What do you mean by that?" "If you could let me have the five pounds I need, I'll see how long I can make it last."
